BIKINI TARGET SHIPS REMAIN HOT AFTER YEAR

Atom Blast Contamination Hampers Observation By Naval Scientists

WASHINGTON, May 9 — Almost a year after detonation of the historic Bikini atomic bombs, some target ships of the strange guinea-pig fleet still are listed as "too hot to handle" by the Navy department.

An official announcement today said intensive study of the effects of the bomb are continuing on vessels which are the "most interesting from the point of view of structural damage and radiological contamination."

MANY of the ships remain at Kwajalein awaiting ultimate disposition. Naval shipyards at Pearl Harbor and San Francisco are still examining the blackened hulls of some of the survivors.

The Navy officially revealed that numerous target craft which remained afloat after the devastating underwater explosion in the second test still were "heavily contaminated" by radioactive materials.

KING TUT'S GOLD MAY BACK EGYPT'S CURRENCY

LONDON, May 9—Gold found in the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen may be used to bolster Egyptian currency.

A Cairo dispatch to the London Daily Mail reported today that the Egyptian government is considering using the 200 million dollars worth of gold found in the desert tomb to back the country's pound note issue.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

There are a few simple pleasures left to us in this embattled world. It is now possible to have your appendix out to music.

In a Brooklyn hospital the doctors will take your request for six records and play them while you drift into ether land.

"Cement Mixer" is good for stomach surgery—in fact selections range all the way to "South of the Border."

Dentists are also going in for "music to operate by." With them "Open Your Mouth, Richard" is tops.

There's one other note of progress: a New York dance studio is being picketed by CIO organizers. It was felt that the time had come to introduce Arthur Murray to Phil Murray.

The pickets danced the conga which is not taught by Murray. This was in the tradition that pickets should be strangers to the picketed.

Company I Approved At Federal Inspection

Company I, Circleville unit of the Ohio National Guard, passed federal inspection Thursday night and soon will be recognized as part of the new national guard setup.

Lt. Col. Harold D. Haskell, regular Army officer from Columbus, inspected the three officers and 25 men that make up the company at present. He complimented Captain Jack Clifton on the group of "good looking men" he had recruited and praised the armory facilities. He said the facilities here were among the best he has seen in Ohio.

Within the new few weeks the company will receive equipment from the government. This will include uniforms, rifles, pistols, machine guns, mortar, four Jeeps and other equipment to outfit a complete rifle company.

Federal pay for the company started with Thursday night's meeting and regular salary checks will be received by members.

Drills will be held every Tuesday at 8 p. m., Capt. Clifton announced.

He said the company was still seeking recruits and invited all men interested in joining the unit to contact him or attend next Tuesday night's drill.

AKRON MOVES TO BALK STRIKE OF EDUCATORS

AKRON, O., May 9—The Akron school board drafted a four-point counter proposal today in an effort to avert a threatened strike of Akron teachers.

More than 800 teachers, protesting the failure of a 3.85-mill levy to raise salaries, voted to empower their executive board to "take whatever action necessary," presumably including strike action.

The teachers demanded that the school board answer their request for a $350 lump sum payment this semester to "preclude further action."

The board's proposal included offers of a raise of from $350 to $450 in the annual rate beginning next fall if the Daniels-Cramer bill passes the state legislature; submission of a levy in the fall elections similar to the 3.85-mill levy; retroactive pay to the beginning of the fall semester; and reaffirmation of a new single-salary schedule.

NAVAL PILOT DUNKS PLANE TO DOUSE FLAMES

CHICAGO, May 9—Five navy fliers were recovering today from the harrowing experience of crash-landing in Lake Michigan after their PBV flying boat caught fire while cruising over the lake.

For more than two hours before they finally were brought ashore by a coast guard rescue crew the fliers were buffeted by high waves and one had a narrow escape from drowning when washed overboard.

The men were participating in gunnery practice when one motor of the big flying boat burst into flames at 1,000 feet altitude.

The fire was extinguished when Ensign Richard Brooks, 22, of Louisville, Ky., piloted the plane to a semi-nose dive into the lake three miles off shore near Wilmette harbor north of Chicago.

ERRING WOMAN WALKS OFF WITH $15,000 GEMS

WAPAKONETA, O., May 9 — Mrs. W. C. Davis of Wapakoneta said goodbye today to $15,000 worth of jewelry she brought home from a Columbus shopping trip by mistake.

The jewels were in a bag owned by Jack Goldman, Chicago salesman, which Mrs. Davis was given by mistake at a Columbus hotel.

Goldman noticed his loss and hotel authorities traced the mix-up. A phone call reached Mrs. Davis before she opened the bag. Arrangements were made for an exchange of bags.

PLAN TO DELAY ACTION ON TAX BILL DOOMED

Republicans Ready To Vote Down Motion Of Foes In Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, May 9—Democratic members of the senate finance committee planned a move today to postpone action on the GOP tax reduction bill until July 15. Their effort, however, was foredoomed to failure.

Republicans in control of the committee were ready to vote down this and any like motion, defeat the Lucas Democratic substitute bill and complete action on the house-approved tax relief measure by night-fall, if possible.

A MINORITY spokesman disclosed that the motion to put off tax action until mid-July, when more accurate fiscal facts on federal receipts and expenditures will be available, was to be the first Democratic move in committee.

Chairman Millikin (R) Col., predicted the majority plan would probably result in these reductions:

30 per cent on taxable income up to $1,000; from 30 to 20 per cent on $1,000 to $1,400 of income; 20 per cent from $1,400 to $100,000; 15 percent from $100,000 to $302,000 and 10 1/2 per cent above $302,000.

Millikin predicted his committee would vote first on the substitute bill of Sen. Lucas (D) Ill., which would boost personal exemptions, reduce surtaxes and give husbands and wives the privilege of splitting incomes for tax purposes.

Early Indications In County Point To Loss Below State Average

Pickaway county fruit growers were leaning toward the optimistic side Friday, despite an announcement from the Ohio University extension service that the frost and freeze had severely damaged fruit in this area.

Several local orchardists said they believed the fruit crop had escaped extensive damage.

A NEW RECORD for low temperature in May was set Friday morning when the mercury dropped to 28 degrees, four below freezing. Thursday morning's low was 29. The weatherman held out no hopes for warmer weather Friday night and Saturday morning.

The official forecast for this area said "clearing and cold with frost or freezing temperatures again tonight. Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer, followed by rain."

Charles Carter, Circleville weather observer, said Thursday's high temperature was only 48 degrees. He reported freezing at the weather station but no frost. In other parts of the county an icy frost was heavy.

MOST DAMAGE by the freezes of the last two days was believed to be to early garden crops and berries. Strawberries were reported to be particularly hard hit.

Extent of the fruit and vegetable damage will show up in the next few days, orchardists and gardeners said. When the sun comes out warm, drooping leaves and blackened blossoms will reveal the loss.

Lateness of Spring this year has helped prevent extensive farm losses. Many crops, which normally are in the ground at this time of year, have not yet been planted. Wet weather has prevented even the preparation of the soil on many farms. Extended cold weather in March (Continued on Page Two)

FROST SLASHES PRODUCTION OF FRUIT IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., May 9—Ohio State University horticulture professor Archibald Van Dorn reported today that last night's low temperatures and frost caused extensive damage to fruit crops throughout the state.

Van Dorn said a low of 26 degrees was recorded in Ohio State orchards. He reported that peaches and apples beyond the peak blossom stage were killed, while strawberry, cherry and current crops were extensively damaged.

The horticulturist added that similar results could be expected generally throughout the state with the exception of the Lake Erie region. He asserted damage would be less in orchards on hills than in those located in valleys where frost could collect.

"Farm experts at Dayton estimated that the peach crop was 50 per cent destroyed and believed the strawberry crop was a total loss. A 28-degree temperature was reported.

UNITED NATIONS HEADING TOWARD U. S. QUIZ BOARD

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 9 —The United Nations is heading today in the direction of the United States plan for a fact-finding commission on Palestine with broad functional powers, but excluding the Big Five powers.

A stumbling block to swift achievement of the first U. N. goal toward a Holy Land solution is the Soviet Union's challenge to the proposed shutting out of the Big Five powers from this investigating group.

The apex of the clash between the American and Russian viewpoint, already splitting the 55 U. N. members, will be deferred until tomorrow by the fact that the political and security committee's agenda is crammed with preliminary events.

SON OF EX-P. I. CHIEF DRAWS LIFE SENTENCE

MANILA, May 9—Sergio Osmena, Jr., son of the former president of the Philippines, was found guilty of treason today following a lengthy trial before a people's court in Manila.

The three-man court sentenced Osmena to life imprisonment and assessed a $10,000 fine, then granted a period of provisional release with bail fixed at $25,000.

Treason charges against Osmena arose from his economic collaboration with the Japanese during the wartime occupation of the Philippines.

GOP SENATOR FEARS DEATH BLOW TO UNIONS

Malone Says Provision For Shop Votes Puts Club In Employers' Hands

WASHINGTON, May 9—Sen. Malone (R) Nev., today broke with the senate GOP leadership over the labor bill. Malone said shop section "could break every a 'hidden' provision in its union union in the country."

The Nevada senator threatened to vote against the bill unless the provision is changed, and predicted other GOP freshmen would join him.

Malone asserted that as written, the provision supposedly giving workers a union shop by majority vote would only give them the chance to bargain for it. He declared it would open the way for employers to fill their plants with strikebreakers while pretending to bargain, and to fire union members.

He introduced an amendment which he said would do "what most senators have been led to believe the bill would do as it now is written."

HIS CHALLENGE came as GOP Policy Chairman Taft (R) Ohio, and Majority Whip Wherry (R) Neb., won an agreement for a vote this afternoon on Taft's substitute modifying the Taft-Ball anti-boycott amendment, and on the amendment itself.

Taft and Wherry failed, however, to get the final vote on the bill set for next Tuesday. Sen. Revercomb (R) W. Va., objected to that, and also blocked an effort to limit to one-half hour each debate on at least eight other pending amendments.

TAFT WAS having leadership trouble on both sides of the issue. Besides the bolt by Malone, Taft lost support of Sen. Ball (R) Minn., in his proposal to modify their boycott amendment in the face of polls that indicated defeat for the Harshar version.

The anti-boycott amendment would allow employers to go direct to court themselves — instead of appealing to the regional National Labor Relations board attorney — to get temporary injunctions against illegal boycotts and jurisdictional strikes.

When leadership polls indicated trouble, Taft proposed to take out the injunctive process provisions, and leave only sections giving employers the right to sue for damages by illegal stoppages. Ball refused to join in that proposal.

EX - WIFE BACKS GUN SLINGING SOONER SOLON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 9—The former wife of Rep. Jimmie Scott, accused of shooting state Sen. Tom Anglin, 64, on the senate floor, came to his defense today.

Scott was held in the Oklahoma City jail on a formal charge of assault with intent to kill. His bond was fixed at $5,000.

Scott declared the shooting was a result of his ex-wife's recent divorce action and her subsequent suit to enforce a property settlement. Anglin's law firm represented her in both cases. Both Scott and Anglin, who was wounded in the hip, are from Holdenville, Okla.

From her Holdenville residence the former Mrs. Scott sent word that she intended to come to Oklahoma City, and "stick by" Scott. She declared that she still loved him and never had wanted a divorce.

CINCINNATI HOTEL FIRE CINCINNATI, May 9—The Columbus hotel in Cincinnati estimated fire loss at $20,000 today after a blaze forced 220 men to flee down fire-escapes and ladders last night.

Navy said, the ships are unsafe for permanent occupancy. But the Navy's experts on radiological matters, in cooperation with the bureau of medicine and surgery, have listed some as safe for temporary working and observation providing specific and stringent safety precautions are complied with.

Meanwhile, the Navy disclosed that intensive efforts are underway to find an effective means of radiological decontamination as part of the "program of preparation against atomic warfare."

THE NAVY and the atomic energy commission are cooperating in the drive to find a decontamination weapon. A special research radiation laboratory has been established at the San Francisco naval yard to prosecute research and development while continuous liaison is maintained with the radiation laboratory at the university of California.

At the same time, the navy department disclosed it is training a "number of officers" to serve as radiological monitors. They will be the nucleus of a radiological safety organization in the event of atomic warfare.

Safety standards already being employed under the stringent precautionary program are even higher than those required for personnel engaged in X-ray work and in industrial use of radium.

TWO HURT WHEN AUTO PLUNGES FROM HIGHWAY

Two persons were injured Thursday afternoon when the auto in which they were riding plunged from the island road at the Sturm and Dillard company.

Only some thorn trees kept the auto from falling into the "kettle hole" at the plant.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said that Lawrence Styers, Circleville resident who has been staying in Columbus, was driving northwest, when he lost control of the auto on a curve. It crashed through the guard rail, broke off a telephone pole and was finally stopped by some small trees.

Fred Henn, East Main street, suffered a deep laceration of the left hand. He was treated by Dr. J. M. Hedges and was confined to Berger hospital Friday.

Also injured was Ann DeWees, Jackson, who had a six-inch laceration from above her left eye back on her scalp, a laceration of her mouth and had a tooth knocked out. She was attended by Dr. Hedges and removed to her home.

Escaping injury were Eddie Brungs, 116 Town street, Paul Cupp and Louise Reese, both of Columbus.

Deaths and Funerals

JAMES RICHARD FANNIN, 12, sixth grade student in Saltcreek township school, died at 8 a. m. Friday in Children's hospital, Columbus, where he had been admitted Tuesday. Leukemia was given as the cause of death.

The body was removed to the Deffenbaugh funeral home pending arrangements.

MRS. E. E. DOUNTZ, 77, widow of E. E. Dountz of near Commercial Point, died early Friday in Berger hospital. She had suffered a stroke Wednesday and was taken to the hospital.

Funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Snyder funeral home, Mt. Sterling, with burial in the Darbyville cemetery.

Old King Cole of the nursery rhyme is usually identified with the semi-mythical King Colius, Coil or Cole, who, on doubtful testimony, is said to have succeeded Asclepiodotus on the throne of Britain in the third century after Christ. MANY GARDENERS placed white caps on their tomato and other plants Thursday evening in an effort to prevent damage. More covering is scheduled Friday evening.

Cold weather extended over most of the state. Lowest mark reported was 27 at Dayton. Wilmington, Zanesville, Columbus and Chesapeake had low marks of 28. Highest minimum was 34 at Cleveland, where the waters of Lake Erie were credited with preventing a big drop in temperatures.

Most of the frost and freezing damage was reported in central and southern parts of the state. The northern part generally had above-freezing temperatures.

GYPSIES DRAW SUSPICION IN CHILD MYSTERY

FORT ATKINSON, WIS., May 9—Belief that 8-year-old Georgia Jean Wecker, missing since May 1, may have been kidnapped by a band of Gypsies was expressed today by county authorities.

This theory was based on the disclosure that the Gypsies broke camp six miles from the Wecker farm home the day after Georgia Jean disappeared when on her way home from school.

District Attorney Francis Garity and Sheriff George Perry theorized that the gypsies may have learned that Georgia Jean's father as Jefferson county treasurer frequently received checks in the mail.

The two officials said the Gypsies might have seen the little girl walking down a half-mile lane toward her home after taking letters from the roadside mail box.

Meanwhile, search for the missing child spread to Upper Michigan. The new search was based on the report of an attendant at a filling station between Marquette and Munising.

The attendant told state police that a suspiciously-acting and nervous man stopped at the station last night to buy some crackers.

The customer explained that a "young kid" in his car was hungry.

ed to take up other amendments—most of them offered by Democrats and conceded no chance of adoption. Then the senators will begin voting on the house bill itself, first acting on the issue of retroactivity.

Millikin said he expected the bill to "follow the general pattern" of the house measure, which grants some three billion 800 million dollars in tax relief.

THE CHAIRMAN said it was the intent of the committee to make the tax cuts effective on July 1. He conceded that because the reduction would apply only on the second half of calendar 1947, taxpayers getting the 20 per cent cut would have an "actual" reduction in 1947 taxes of only 10 per cent.

TENTATIVE CUT LOPS MILLIONS OFF NAVY FUND

WASHINGTON, May 9 — The Navy's request for funds for 1948 was reliably reported today to have been tentatively slashed 10 per cent by a house appropriations subcommittee.

A member of the subcommittee, who asked that his name be withheld, revealed that a cut of 350 million dollars for the Navy department is being recommended to the full appropriations committee.

A budget of $3,504,546,300 for the Navy during the new fiscal year beginning July 1 was requested by President Truman.

A 5 1/2 per cent reduction also has been reported for funds for the Army. A cut of 300 million dollars was said to have been made on the Army department's request for $5,717,791,000.

Unless revised, the subcommittee action would enable the GOP economy campaign to effect a nine per cent savings on purely military funds for the armed services. Funds for the civil functions carried on by the war department still are to be considered.

In Fayette county contract was awarded to L. P. Cavett company, Lockland, for improvements on sections of state routes 38, 734 and 753. Total cost is $25,751.19.

FOODSTUFFS ON GERMAN FARMS MAY BE SEIZED

BERLIN, May 9 — The threat that troops would be used to seize hoarded foodstuffs to avert an emergency today confronted German farmers in the American zone.

Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, commander of the American zone, prodded farmers into making food deliveries and warned that he would not hesitate to use the army. He added:

"If such drastic measures are necessary, we will take them. We can confiscate the farmers' stocks."

"If this is necessary, I will order it. I still have an army here."

Pressure Canner Gauges Will Be Checked May 16

Pressure canner gauges will be tested at The Ohio Fuel Gas company office in Circleville on May 16, from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Miss Betty Newton, Home Service Department, The Gas company, emphasizes the importance of having the pressure canner gauge tested, and the valve checked each year. The complete cover of the pressure canner should be taken to the clinic for the free testing service.

Women may leave the covers at The Gas company office at any time on May 16, and return for them later in the day, Miss Newton said. She urged that women take advantage of this opportunity, when equipment will be available to test the gauges, even though the pressure canners are not to be used immediately.

Throughout the day, Miss Newton and Miss Genevieve Alley, county home demonstration agent, will be present to discuss any phase of food preservation. All women are invited to obtain the free booklet, with complete information on canning, prepared by Miss Newton; also a leaflet with recipes for new and different ways of serving home-canned fruits and vegetables.

ADVISERS WANT PRESIDENT TO VISIT PEOPLE

Truman's Fast Air Trips Keep Him From Meeting Voters Of The Country

WASHINGTON, May 9—President Truman's advisers are counselling him to get out in the country more and let the voters see him.

Their eyes already are trained on November, 1948. Mr. Truman is their accepted candidate for the Democratic nomination.

As the result, a heavy schedule of presidential travel is likely for the last six months of this year.

PRESIDENTIAL intimates argue that in Mr. Truman's two years in the White House, despite the many trips he has taken, the country as a whole has seen him in person very little.

They back their thesis up further with the belief that wherever the President has gone, wherever he has come in contact with everyday people, he has won them instantly by his native charm and down-to-earthness.

One of the big drawbacks to this has been the President's fondness for air travel. His big four-engine plane, "the flying White House," can take him wherever he wants to go within a few hours.

This coming Sunday, the president will fly out to Missouri for a three-hour visit with his 94-year-old mother. He will breakfast at the White House, lunch in Missouri, and be back in the White House for dinner.

All of this highspeed travel, according to White House advisers, stacks up to a lot of ground covered in a short time but with virtually none of the voters seeing him.

THEY WANT Mr. Truman to get back on the presidential train and make a lot of rear platform appearances on swings around the country.

The advisers aren't having too easy a time of it. The President simply likes air travel. A complicating factor to their arguments is that the President soon will get a bigger and far faster plane, the new 300-mile-an-hour "flying White House," a DC-6.

Mr. Truman has travelled on a train very few times while in the White House. He did make one trip to Missouri by train just before the last November election. He has made two brief trips to and from New York City, and two to the annual Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia.

A Pacific coast trip is quite likely. The President wants to revisit Washington state, and then take the presidential yacht Williamsburg for a leisurely voyage up to Alaska.

ONE ALMOST certain train trip is to come before then. The President is scheduled to make his first visit to Canada June 10-13. This will be a goodwill state visit similar to his journey to Mexico. Unless a change is made he will use the train,

ORDER BEING WORKED OUT OF ASSEMBLY MESS

Leadership Concentrating On Six Of 800 Bills Given To Ohio Solons

COLUMBUS, O., May 9 — A semblance of system was rising slowly today from the welter of confusion surrounding the 800 bills introduced in the Ohio legislature.

Of the 800, less than 50 have been passed into law, although the session has lasted 18 weeks to date.

The leadership now is concentrating on six major problems, however. When they are out of the way the solons are expected to call it quits and adjourn for the year.

The problems are those of aid to schools, aid to local governments, a soldier bonus, the general appropriations bill, the additions and betterments bill, and the sundry claims bill.

HERE IS their present status: Aid to schools — The Daniels-Cramer school bill, already passed by the senate, is awaiting house action after the house education committee cut its payment rate from 88 to 83 millions a year.

Aid to local governments — This is the most ticklish problem facing the solons, but is gradually taking shape. The house taxation committee has recommended for passage a bill which probably will be the basis of the program.

In all, the local aid program totals some 32 millions, as against the 12 millions received by the subdivisions up to 1944, the 16 millions in 1945, and the 21 millions in 1946.

This program still has to clear both houses.

SOLDIER BONUS—The senate has passed and sent to the house a proposed constitutional amendment to pay a maximum $400 bonus, based on $10 for each month's domestic service and $15 for foreign service.

The general appropriations bill — The bill, totaling $509.4 millions plus another 75 millions as a first payment on the bonus if approved in November by the voters, passed the house this week after months of study by the house finance committee.

It is 85 million dollars above expenses for 1945-46, but still faces a fight by the school lobby to increase aid to schools. The senate may insert amendments which could cause a house-senate deadlock to be resolved only by a conference committee.

THE ADDITIONS and betterments bill—This bill, providing funds for permanent building and post-war improvements, hasn't even been introduced as yet. However, finance director Herbert Defenbacher has it about ready for submission, and it may be introduced next week. It is expected to appropriate some 80 million dollars.

The sundry claims bill — This measure normally takes lengthy hearing, but two years ago the law about claims against the state was amended to permit the board of control to pay, at its discretion all claims up to $200.

The house finance committee is clearing its decks for the reception of the additions and betterments and the sundry claims bill, lending further credence to reports that the leaders are now aiming for final adjournment sometime next month.

FIRE BOMBS OF MASKED RAIDERS STIR TEL AVIV

JERUSALEM, May 9 — Four incendiary bomb fires started by masked raiders in shops in the center of Tel Aviv were believed today to presage violence against Jewish storekeepers selling foreign goods.

The estimated damage caused by the fires totalled 80 thousand dollars.

The raiders, believed to be members of the Jewish underground, in each case adopted the same technique. They drove up in taxis, ordered the owner and staff out of the stores, and beat up those who refused to obey.

A Palestine Jew was killed and another wounded by Arab armed guards stationed at a road block near Latrun.

CHARGES CHARGED

MOSCOW, May 9 — The Soviet press charged today that the American press was guilty of several deliberate changes and errors in publishing the text of the Harold E. Stassen interview with Premier Stalin.

MUSTER WARNS OF SOIL LOSS

Rotarians Told Of Dwindling Mineral Content Of Pickaway Farms

Warning of the menace of dwindling mineral content of the soil in Pickaway county, Soil Conservationist James A. Muster in a talk to members of the Rotary club Thursday following a noon luncheon in the Pickaway Arms, appealed to business and professional men to arouse interest in the aims of soil conservation.

"Only nine of the major minerals remain in our known domestic reserves in sufficient quantity of usable grade to last 100 years or more", Muster declared, "and our known usable reserves of 22 essential minerals have dwindled to a 35-year supply or less."

"It behooves us to learn the true meaning of our meager supply, which is not that we will be weak 100 years from now, but that we are now relatively weak."

REFERRING to the disastrous soil losses which the nation is suffering Muster mentioned the repeated statement of Dr. Hugh Bennett of the Soil Conservation service, that "we are losing every day as a result of erosion, the equivalent of 200 40-acre farms."

That Pickaway county is not immune to this loss, Muster said, is shown by the silt-laden muddy waters which fill ditches, creeks and rivers after every heavy rain. Sheet erosion, that is not noticed by the farmer, he declared is the type that does the most harm locally since it is not apparent, such as gully erosion.

"Other serious soil losses which Pickaway county suffers are those mineral losses experienced in leaching and in crop and livestock and livestock products removals, also in the exhaustion of the organic matter of our soils. No farm escapes these losses, no matter how level and free of erosion it may be."

"People are lulled into a false feeling of security by reading that crop yields are as high now as they were 75 years ago, never realizing that present yields are not being made on the same acres which grew the yields of other years. Millions of acres of formerly good crop land have been ruined and new land has been put into use. The development of higher yielding crops and of machinery, both capable of causing heavier soil depletion also help create this deception."

Extreme race haters are on the verge of mental imbalance, blaming a racial group for their own shortcomings, questionnaires and psychological tests have shown.

ROYAL JUPITER WILL BE SHOWN HERE ON MAY 20

International Champion Steer
To Be Exhibited At
County Fairgrounds

Royal Jupiter, international grand champion steer, will be shown at a free exhibition at the fairgrounds Tuesday, May 20, at 2:30 p. m.

Special ceremonies are being worked out to welcome the steer crowned "King Sirloin 1947" by Robert S. Kerr, former governor of Oklahoma, in a special ceremony at Oklahoma A and M College. He has been named Oklahoma's "ambassador of good beef" by Governor Roy Turner, a widely known Hereford breeder.

When he is shown here Pickaway county youth will be brought by school bus to see the champion and several special honors are planned.

IT IS FITTING that the $14,490 Shorthorn, who is being sent on a 22,000 mile educational tour by his purchasers, The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, travel like the blueblood that he is. He is being exhibited in leading cattle growing communities in every section of the country.

To keep the Grand Champion in the same peak condition which won him first place over every other steer shown at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, Firestone has provided King Sirloin with an actual "Palace on Wheels." This "palace" is a huge and beautiful truck and has every convenience any steer born to the purple could demand.

Large plexi-glass windows along the truck's sides cut down any sun glare and also allow the grand champion to look out on the countryside as he travels from one area to another. Venetian blinds can be lowered should the King demand absolute privacy and rest. The palace is air conditioned and contains its own heating plant so Royal Jupiter can regulate the temperature and humidity to suit his whims.

HIS OWN special diet and the water to which he is accustomed is stored in the truck. Firestone has covered the floor with Foamex rubber to cushion His Highness against the jars and jolts of the road.

If the grand champion should want music to soothe his noble heart, a record player built into the truck can be tuned immediately to the Blue Danube Waltz. Reports from Oklahoma A. and M. indicate that Royal Jupiter

TWIN MARKS OF BEXLEY TWINS SET PRECEDENTS

COLUMBUS, O., May 9 — Twins set twin precedents with twin marks at Bexley high school today.

Charlotte and Jane Thomas, 17-year-old sisters, made straight "A's" in their four-year career at Bexley high school to tie for top honors and become the first twin valedictorians in the school's history. They are also the first seniors to be tied for the highest grades.

Both girls have different interests in school, with Charlotte favoring mathematics and science and Jane leaning toward the arts. But both expect to continue their higher education at Miami University.

Maybe the fact that their maternal grandfather, Dr. H. F. Vallance, is dean of Miami's graduate school has something to do with their educational achievement.

prefers light classical music rather than swing or boogie-woogie. He has a definite aversion to roadside hamburger and barbecue stands.

Firestone, of course, does not recommend this as a standard procedure in handling steers, according to H. E. Graef, Firestone manager here. Rather, these unusual precautions are taken to insure that the Grand Champion does not go stale, but retains his true championship form while on this arduous 20,000 mile tour of the nation.

HOUSE STRIVES FOR FINAL VOTE ON GREEK AID

Limit On Army Missions
Tops Amendments To
Truman Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 9 — The house strove for a final vote today on President Truman's program to aid Greece and Turkey and halt the spread of communism.

The chamber convened two hours earlier than usual, in an effort to complete action by tonight.

As consideration of the 400 million dollar authorization, already approved by the senate, went into its fourth successive day, Speaker Martin (R) Mass., said the prospects for a final vote were good.

Topping the many amendments that remained to be disposed of was a proposal by Reps. Mundt (R) S. D., and Judd (R) Minn., foreign affairs committee members, Greece and Turkey be limited to 200 men each.

THEY SAID the country wanted some assurance that no expeditionary force would be sent to the mediterranean. They were joined by another committee member, Rep. Bolton (R) Ohio. Eaton bill, a companion measure to that passed by the senate 68-23.

The major test of opposition strength was expected to come late in the afternoon on an amendment by Rep. Smith (R) Wis., to delay the President's program for 60 days to allow the United Nations to assume jurisdiction.

Still another important vote was slated to be taken on another Smith amendment reducing the authorization to 200 million dollars and removing the authority of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. to make 100 million immediately available to the President.

REP. BENDER (R) Ohio, planned to offer numerous amendments, including several offered in the senate to eliminate all aid to Turkey and provide only non-military assistance to Turkey and to Greece.

A committee amendment requiring that the FBI screen all personnel sent overseas was adopted without controversy.

PROBE OF REDS IN FILMLAND TO BE NO QUICKIE

House Committeemen In Hollywood On Trail Of
"Un-Americanism"

HOLLYWOOD, May 9—A secret probe of Hollywood was launched today by the house committee on un-American activities.

Two members of a sub-committee, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R) N. J. and Rep. John McDowell (R) Pa., arrived for the investigation yesterday. With them was a staff of investigators headed by Robert E. Stripling.

A third member of the committee, Rep. John Wood (D) Ga., is due by plane today.

Chairman Thomas asserted: "This is not going to be a quickie or a loose investigation. He said that he and his sub-committee would be in the film city about ten days, contacting people whom he declined in any way to identify."

THOMAS declared that the sub-committee's first business would be to scrutinize Hans Eisler "very carefully" with regard to his "connections here, his business and his friends here."

Eisler is the film music composer who was described by his sister, in testimony before the committee last February, as a "communist in the philosophical sense."

He is a brother of Gerhart Eisler, who has been termed Moscow's No. 1 agent in the United States and who is now under indictment for contempt of congress.

Thomas said the sub-committee, spending all of its time in secret investigations, would hold no Hollywood hearings.

An offer to "point out the real communists" in the film industry was made by Ronald Reagan, president of the screen actors guild.

MAN AND NATURE

THE TERRIBLE catastrophe at Texas City brings to mind all the destructive forces of nature. It is an example of the turning of the forces of nature against man, their discoverer.

In Herman Melville's story, Moby Dick, the white leviathan is a symbol of the malignant secrets of nature which terrify and destroy the men who attempt to discover them. Melville was thinking of the seekers after theoretical truth, the man who dared to push back the curtain of reality. But his mystical, half-crazed story has more application now than when he wrote it almost a hundred years ago. Man has mastered nature, but nature strikes back.

The automobile, the fuel we use to heat our homes, the marvelous inventions and discoveries of our age, deal out death in occasional furious and brief encounters in a way that, like Moby Dick, leaves us with a strange feeling of uneasiness.

Could it be that man cannot really master nature until he masters himself?

OVERWORK AT WASHINGTON

IT IS WELL known that the life of a congressman at Washington is hard to endure, but apparently the half has never been told. Some of the facts of congressional life have been divulged now by Representative Fred Bradley of Michigan.

It seems there are so many parties, banquets, and so on, which a statesman has to attend, that it is very hard to get any kind of work done, and the more conscientious statesmen feel very bad about it. One of the congressional deplorers confesses that it is not unusual for some members, in pursuit of their duties, to attend several banquets and receptions in one evening. "The strain is terrific," he says, "and can hardly be imagined by the people back home." Surely there should be some alleviation of the strain.

If this interest in Greece continues, we may have a lot of American students studying the Greek language again and as a matter of fact, they might do worse.

PRAYERS FOR RUSSIA

IT IS INTERESTING to speculate on what will be the official feelings of the USSR regarding the May Day prayer service of American Catholics who all over the United States met that day to pray for Russia. The Christophers of New York, who originated the plan, announced that the meetings, open to non-Catholics as well as Catholics, were designed to substitute the power of prayer for the violence sometimes adopted in communist May Day celebrations.

This would seem to be the Christian approach to tensions. Maybe if more prayers were indulged in by all sects and religious groups, brotherly love would come nearer to being a reality. It is certainly a novel approach to the present much-talked "Russian problem," and a way to peace well worth a trial.

See Senate O. K. for Bill Granting Relief to Europe | At Last—The Volkswagen! But British Are Building It!

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—President Truman's $500 million-dollar post-UNRRA relief bill for Europe probably will be passed by the Senate, with safeguards for American interests written into it by the Foreign Relations committee.

Should the House abide by its tentative decision to slash the appropriation by 150 million dollars, the Senate is regarded as certain to restore the fund.

Many senators feel that 200 million dollars would be inadequate to do the relief job. They point out that close to 350 million people are affected in some way or other by the relief appropriation.

As a result, they argue that 200 million dollars would be worse than no appropriation at all inasmuch as it would breed resentment when the funds ran out prematurely and no aid was forthcoming after it had been promised needy nations.

The bill now calls for aid to Greece, Italy, Poland, Czechoslovakia and possibly China. Some observers see the possibility that when the bill finally goes to conference the Senate may yield up to 50 million dollars to the House—paring the original figure down to about 300 million dollars.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 9—The main dish of the new Republican leadership is turning out to be something of an entree. The union reform legislation upon which the nation was supposed to rise or fall is attracting less and less sound and fury.

The lobbying groups are still at it, but less than you would expect. Senate reporters claim to have seen no sign of the AFL-CIO buttonholers or the NAM-C of C bell-ringers since the senate committee closed the hearings and reported out its moderated (Ives-Dewey?) bill. Ads are being bought by opposing sides in the newspapers. The AFL and CIO held a futile get-together. But aside from such developments, the propaganda has a partial, routine flavor.

This is attributable to the rather clever strategy of the big unions in getting the jump on the bill by closing two year contracts for substantial wage increases before it could be passed. Union tactics have turned toward settlement of its heaviest disputes before the legislation can become operative.

As the union leaders were scared out of the indiscriminate national wave of strikes in which they indulged themselves last year, except for telephones and coal, the legislation is not subject to critical current application.

Then, furthermore, the realization is beginning to grow (although it is not being publicized) that the unions can work rather well under either the firm house reform bill or the weaker senate committee measure. Their ability for just collective bargaining will not be impaired materially by either bill, certainly not by the final form of the legislation which will be somewhat less than the house bill but more than the senate bill. Neither would break the unions. At any rate the legislation is experimental and no doubt will be altered by experience next year. From any objective viewpoint, it merely lightly turns the federal setup against the worst abuses.

Take the industry wide bargaining restrictions, for instance. The ban could hardly be effective. The unions can get around it. While an international union would not be allowed to dictate terms to a local, it could recommend terms and the local could ask it to suggest terms. Through internal union connections between the international and local, the unions could do much as they now do. They could certainly get around this proposed senate amendment, which the unions call "harsh", much easier than they got around the Hatch act.

You never hear much of this truly objective side of the story, because the propagandists on both sides are viewing with alarm in order to influence the final form of the legislation as much as possible for their respective sides.

Furthermore, the bills are sunk in politics, all kinds of politics, personal, inter and intra-party. This is a pre-presidential year when lines are forming. Mr. Truman's next year Georgia delegates have already called at the White House. His representatives in the senate are trying to be coy and create doubt as to whether he will sign whatever bill congress passes.

It Should Be Everyone's Job To Watch for Cancer Signs

By HERMAN N. RUNDEN, M.D.

WE are making real progress in cancer control and can say today with great confidence that early cancer is curable.

But in order to cure cancer, it must be discovered early. Although cancer has been studied by many scientists for many years and is the object of much of today's research, it is still true that the only successful way of treating it is to remove or destroy the cancerous tissue completely.

In One Place

The best chance of doing this is while the cancer is all in one place, before metastasis occurs. We say a cancer has metastasized when some of the cancer cells have been carried by blood or lymph to other parts of the body to set up new cancers in these locations.

This does not usually occur in the early stages of the disease and that is why we say early cancer is curable.

Take breast cancer for example. According to Dr. Eugene P. Pendergrass of Pennsylvania, the patient herself is the first line of defense against breast cancer. It is her job to watch for those signs of cancer which can be seen or felt, such as a lump in the breast, and to consult a doctor immediately if she notes any of them. Whether or not a woman has signs or evidence of cancer she should have an examination made by her doctor regularly every six months.

It is suggested by Dr. Pendergrass that any woman past 35 years of age should examine her breasts for cancer signs once a month. These signs include a lump in the breast, any deformity of the breast, such as attachment of the skin to the tissue underneath. This causes a slight depression of the skin. Other signs are retraction or pulling-in of the nipple, bleeding or a discolored discharge from the nipple, and enlargement of the lymph glands in the armpit.

Because many of these signs may indicate some condition other than cancer, a woman should not be overcome with fear if one of them is discovered. In fact, no one should fear cancer but rather remember that, if the condition is diagnosed early enough, it can be cured. However, lack of fear should not mean carelessness or keep patients from consulting the doctor at once if suspicious signs are present.

Only the physician can make an accurate diagnosis. If the condition is not cancerous the patient's mind will be put at rest. If it is cancerous, no time will be lost in securing proper treatment.

Pain, as a rule, is either a symptom of late cancer or of some other abnormal condition. If a woman has a lump in her breast, she should not wait until pain develops to have an examination made. By then it may be too late.

SYNOPSIS
The recent marriage of Bill Arden, serious young lawyer, to vivacious Diane Tarrell, was viewed with misgiving by the more conservative members of Grandharbor society. Bill belonged to one of the town's oldest families, while Diane's father, wealthy J. Emmet Tarrell, and Paula, her step-mother, were comparative newcomers with little or no background. It was rumored, too, that J. Emmet had come by his huge fortune rather questionably. Attractive Page Winston, who had been in love with Bill since childhood, managed to hide her heartbreak from all but Rufus Kent, Bill's former roommate at Harvard, who had recently come to Grandharbor to work on The Post. Diane was ideally happy, despite the fact that most of Bill's evenings had to be devoted to the Staples case which he was preparing for trial. It was his first big assignment, and it handled successfully might gain him a junior partnership. However, he agreed to take a night off to entertain a few of their friends, among them, Page and Rufus. Diane was deeply hurt when, a few evenings later, one of the crowd phoned to ask them out; as usual, she declined, but Bill, instead of being grateful, angrily voiced the wish that her friends would phone during the day. Caring for their small apartment took little time, and most every afternoon found Diane at the country club half-heartedly pursuing the same gay activities she had before marriage.

He left early for the office, came home late; he ate, when he ate anything, with notes he had made by the side of his plate. Diane believed she could count on her fingers the number of times, to date, he had voluntarily spoken to her. But Rufus had prepared her for it, so she adapted herself to it, maintaining toward Bill the cheerful tolerance of a good-natured nurse, caring for a temperamental patient. Only Rufus' editorial had shaken her out of this.

"You didn't really answer me," she thought with some spirit, after Bill's answer. And then she found herself wondering if Bill really believed Staples innocent. If he didn't, how could he put himself so into defending him? The trial threatened to drag out for some weeks. In its second week Diane stopped reading about it. It became tiresome to follow, with its question and answer and the objections made to the court, first by the Prosecuting Attorney and then by Bill, every time a witness said anything; the court adjourned just when the testimony seemed to be getting somewhere. She did not read any more of Rufus' editorials. Every morning she despatched her marketing—it was routine now—and dressed again to drive to the club for tennis or a swim. The days were not and sunny. Poor Bill, she would think often, as she sped over macadam road that curved to the green, gently-rolling heights of the Old Colony Club, the freshness of the open country against her face. "It would be nice if Bill could play with me!"

CHAPTER NINE

THE STAPLES trial began in less than a month. The State against Martin Staples, charged with criminal intent to defraud.

The newspapers gave front-page columns to it, which Diane read carefully as soon as Bill left the apartment. From them she gathered that the defendant had sold a large tract of land to the State for a new hospital and gotten more money for it than he should. The words "graft" and "bribery" and "collusion" were repeated over and over. But Diane was less roused by that than that the newspapers referred frequently to the able Prosecuting Attorney, John Darnell, and seldom to William Arden, counsel for the defense.

Then she read an editorial Rufus had written for the Post in which he lauded the determination of the "able" Prosecuting Attorney to rid the city of its sleazy element, its wolves in sheep's clothes, as he put it. And not a word in it about her equally able Bill!

"What did Rufus mean?" she asked Bill at dinner. Bill had not read the editorial; he had to tell him what was in it. Bill shrugged his shoulders. "Rufus likes to run with the pack. It's after Staples because he's rich and a big fellow in his political party. He was considered for the nomination of governor a few years ago."

Diane was silent a moment, considering this new slant on Rufus. It explained a little his manner toward her, of not quite accepting her. Then she brought her thought back to Bill's client. "Did he cheat when he sold that land?" she pressed, interestedly.

Bill was pushing back his chair, though he'd eaten scarcely any dinner. "No man is guilty until it is proven before a qualified jury," he answered, with some snap.

He was everything, these days, that Rufus had implied he would be. He left early for the office, came home late; he ate, when he ate anything, with notes he had made by the side of his plate. Diane believed she could count on her fingers the number of times, to date, he had voluntarily spoken to her. But Rufus had prepared her for it, so she adapted herself to it, maintaining toward Bill the cheerful tolerance of a good-natured nurse, caring for a temperamental patient. There were several, always, on the club veranda to hail her coming. Lois, Wilma, other girls, vivacious, as colorful in their summer clothes as a flock of tropical birds, would gather around her. Sometimes Page was there. Diane liked to play tennis with Page; Page was serious enough about it to make it a good game. None of them hurried, though, to get started at anything. There would be first a little while of lounging in the comfortable chairs on the veranda, a lively, careless exchange of talk.

This never touched on the trial. Martin Staples might be the devouring wolf Rufus pictured him, a menace to society, but it did not concern these young people. They had gone on with Lois' idea of shooting a moving picture, in which they all would appear. It offered novelty and excitement at a time of the year when there wasn't much. Danny, to everyone's surprise, produced a script for it. "Oh, nothing, my pet! Really nothing. I dashed it off while I was shaving!" But Lois, reading it, squealed over it. When she read it aloud, the others laughed, too, and grew more enthusiastic. They agreed Diane must have the lead. "Of course! Who else?" Ross would direct, by right of some experience in the Little Theater group. That Corning would come into it. Danny would grind the camera.

But who would take the part of the newspaper man, about to depart for the wars in Europe when he meets Diane and falls for her? Lois sat straight under the stimulus of fresh inspiration. "Why, that newspaper man of yours, Di. The one you had at your house that night!"

Vicky asked with interest: "Tall? A sort of half-way between Abraham Lincoln and Will Rogers? I saw him with Page Winston in Giuseppe's the other night. They weren't dancing—just talking, and how?"

"I wonder, did her mother know," Wilma laughed. The others laughed; they laughed frequently at Page's mother.

Except Diane, who said quickly: "She ought not to mind. He's a swell person!"

"But, Di, not of an old, old family!" "Like the Ardens," added Vicky. "Mrs. Winston had Bill picked for Page when they were in their cradles."

"She hadn't heard about Diane." "I don't think Rufus Kent would come into it," Diane put in, answering Lois, as if nothing had been said between. "He doesn't like our sort."

"But you can make him, Di!" begged Lois. "We don't know anyone who so looks the part! Use all you've got on him!"

"Wouldn't that be just a little too mean to Page?" demanded Vicky.

Diane slid off the veranda railing where she had been perched. Her eyes flashed a little. "I'll ask Rufus," she said briefly. "Anyone going into the pool?"

At once they all decided to go into the pool. They were a little late. They spent the rest of the morning in the water and in the sun at the side of it, their chatter as vagrant as the breeze that touched their almost bare bodies. They went back to the locker room and discarded swimming suits for slacks and lunched in the cool, paneled dining room. After lunch they separated, some to go back to the city, some to play tennis or golf.

Diane played three sets of tennis with Wilma, then she drove home. At home she wandered about the rooms a little restlessly. There was nothing to do until dinner time. The maid-by-the-hour had been in and the apartment was in a shining order. But it was a too impersonal order; with a vague defiance in her gesture, Diane moved the position of some books and magazines on the table, poked the pillows on the divan as she passed it.

She went into the bedroom, to the telephone. She'd call Rufus now.

"It's Di Arden. I've something I want you to do. I can't ask you over the phone. Will you meet me for a cocktail? In half an hour?"

Her friendly tone robbed the suggestion of any boldness. Rufus Kent answered after only the briefest hesitation. "If you'll make it Tony's, next to the office here. Better meet me in front. It isn't a pretty place."

It was no more than a slit in the wall with a few wooden tables and chairs beyond the long bar. "A man's hangout," Rufus explained without any apology. "Want to stand at the bar, or sit down?"

"Sit." Diane's eyes danced. He was testing her out. She went on past the bar and a group of interested men to one of the tables, sat down at it with complete ease.

Household Hints

Good scissors and shears are easily damaged. The fine cutting edge is dulled by use on paper and cardboard, flowers, wet cloth or heavy string. Inexpensive utility shears should be kept in the kitchen for such uses. Scissors also should never be used on heavy fabrics because such usage is likely not only to dull, but to spring them. Once sprung they are damaged permanently. Dropping may also

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hancher, Sr., West Ohio street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winfough, West Ohio street.

TIGER 9 LOSES DISTRICT TILT TO AQUINAS, 7-5

Bob Steele Gets Four Hits;
CHS Gets 10 Safeties
But Is Eliminated

Circleville high school Tigers were knocked out of the Central district baseball tournament at Columbus in their first game Thursday afternoon.

In a game played at Upper Arlington, Columbus Aquinas defeated the CHS entry by a 7-5 score.

George Morris gave the visitors eight hits while he and his mates collected 10 but the Columbus boys used theirs to better advantage. Slugging hero of the day was Bob Steele, who smashed two triples and two singles in four times at bat.

EACH TEAM scored four runs in the fourth inning. During the Tigers' outbreak Bob Shaw singled, Bob Ecard got a walk, John Rhoads singled, Rod Heine singled and Steele got a base-clearing triple. The other Tiger run came in the fifth when Steele singled, advanced on Paul Smallwood's hit and scored on an error.

Boland's home run gave the Aquinas club a 1-0 lead in the first. Another run came in the second on one hit. In the fourth two hits, two walks, a hit batsman and an error led in four. Walk, hit and fielder's choice, accounted for the other run in the seventh.

IN OTHER games played Thursday Columbus North eliminated previously undefeated Linden McKinley by a 7-2 score; Grandview bowed 6-1 to Columbus St. Charles; Arlington margined Bexley 6-3 and Columbus East downed Marion 7-0.

At 4:30 p. m. Friday the CHS Tigers were to play Logan nine on the Ted Lewis park diamond.

CARDS AND SOX SHOWING LIFE

Reds Bow To New York While
St. Louis Trims Bums;
Tigers Take First

NEW YORK, May 9—The first phase of intersectional competition in the major leagues is over today with the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox finally showing definite signs of their championship 1946 form.

Cardinal morale once again is riding high despite the fact that the team still is in last place in the National League and its star first baseman, Stan Musial, is ailing.

The Red Birds showed their old fire last night in trouncing their main rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, in the rubber game of their series. Harry Brecheen held the Brooks to six hits and won easily, 5 to 1. Ralph Branca was the victim.

Musial now is thought to be suffering from ptomaine poisoning. A blood test for appendicitis was negative, but the battling king was still suffering abdominal pains, and will be out of action for a while.

BROOKLYN now is only a few percentage points ahead of the Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves, who are deadlocked for second place.

The Cubs downed the Phillies twice, 2 to 1 and 8 to 7. In the opener Hooks Wye won a mound duel from Fred Schmidt, former Cardinal making his first major league start since 1944, while a six-run rally in the eighth gave the Bruins the nightcap.

Johnny Beazley, another former Cardinal mound star, won his first start as a Boston Brave with a 12 to 5 decision over the Pirates.

Ken Trinkle was credited with his third victory within a week as the Giants beat Cincinnati, 7 to 4.

COLONELS TAKE AA LEADERSHIP FROM RED BIRDS

By International News Service
A pair of major league pitching castoffs were responsible today for the return of the Louisville Colonels to the American Association leadership.

The 1946 champions, favored again this season, went a half game ahead of the Columbus Red Birds last night as they defeated St. Paul, 5 to 2, while the Birds were being shut out, 5 to 0, by Kansas City.

Lefty Bill Wight, late of the New York Yankees, was considerably hotter than the weather as he gave Columbus only three hits.

Louisville's Jim Wilson, ex-Boston Red Sox righthander, meted out only five safeties as the Colonels whipped St. Paul.

Blas Monaco, substitute first sacker, shared honors, however. It was his eighth inning homer with the bases full that broke up a tight duel between Wight and Charley Stanceau.

The defeat was Stanceau's first in four games. Wight won his third victory against one loss.

Meanwhile, Indianapolis squeezed over a run in the ninth to win a ding-dong 6-to-5 battle from Minneapolis.

A double header between Toledo and Milwaukee was postponed because of cold weather. Only one association game is on tap tonight, Minneapolis being scheduled at Milwaukee.

the Detroit Tigers, although idle, were boosted into first place when the pace-setting Chicago White Sox were held to three hits and beaten, 3 to 0, by Dave Ferriss of Boston. The Red Sox, winners of four straight, are only half a game behind the second-place Pale Hose.

The Athletics defeated the St. Louis Browns in a night game, 5 to 3.

The Cleveland-Yankee and Washington-Detroit games were called off because of cold weather.

3 P. M. In Ohio Stadium
Before Ohio Coaches

COLUMBUS, O., May 9—Ohio State University's Spring football practice will be concluded Saturday in the stadium with the annual clinic game between the "Red" and "White" squads.

Coach Wesley E. Fesler has designated 84 players to participate, including 29 lettermen. Starting time will be 3 p. m., following an Ohio State-Michigan dual track meet.

The game climaxes a two-day clinic, open to high school and college coaches of the state, which more than 500 will attend. The program begins Friday morning in the university gymnasium, with the athletic department serving as host at a Friday evening dinner at the Neil House. For this event, Prof. James E. Pollard will act as toastmaster, and George M. Trautman, minor league baseball commissioner, will be the principal speaker.

LETTERMEN listed on the "Red" team Saturday include: Ends, James Crane, Jerold Feddersen and Dave Bonnie; tackles, Jack Wilson and Charles Fazio; guards, Robert Jabbusch, George Tonneff, Richard O'Hanlon and Thomas Snyder.

Know Your City Water Division

By ERVIN F. LEIST
Manager of Circleville Utilities
 The citizens—you—of Circleville now own and operate the water supply facilities of the city. As manager of those facilities it is my duty to inform the owners "what goes on" and why. Therefore, from time to time articles entitled, "Know Your Water Department", shall be published.

As owners of the water department you are entitled, and welcome to ask questions concerning YOUR business enterprise. We shall endeavor to answer them correctly and promptly.

At the time efforts were being made to purchase the water supply system, certain improvements were discussed and promised YOU by those who were actively engaged in that effort. As a result of those statements the Board of Public Utilities was granted authority by the city council, to enter into contract with an engineering firm, in order to determine what improvements were necessary.

BURGESS and Niple, civil and sanitary engineers, 568 East Broad street, Columbus, were employed October 16, 1946, to make a study and submit a report to the board. This has been done, and the report is on file in our office.

On the basis of the report a definite plan of improvements has been adopted. The program consists of eight (8) major steps, as follows:

1. Supplement the present source of water supply in order to increase the volume of water available for distribution.
2. Eliminate the present steam stand-by power and pump equipment and replace same with either gasoline or diesel power units.
3. Purchase and install a new chlorinator, for purposes of disinfection of the water.
4. Purchase and install a master meter, for the purpose of accounting for water pumped at the plant and to enable accurate treatment of water.
5. Investigate, repair or replace the second Scioto river crossing.
6. Install, if necessary, a well or wells, on this side of the Scioto river next to and connected to the present force main, for use as an emergency supply. (This step is contingent upon the adequacy of step 1, above.)
7. Install water softening plant.
8. Erect an elevated storage tank in town for better pressure and fire protection.

BY AUTHORITY of council, granted May 6, 1947, the board has been empowered to proceed with a portion of the above program, and at least an investigation of the fifth step.

The softening of the water supply was promised for early installation. In this regard the engineers have pointed out that the first consideration must be an adequate supply of water. Therefore the first step, as indicated above, will be to supplement our present supply.

It developed that the problem at Circleville was not where to find an adequate supply, because of the abundance of both surface and ground water, but rather a matter of decision of which one to use. The result is that of all the water available, that obtainable at the present site of the plant would be the cheapest to treat and to soften. Why? The water now being used does not contain more than a trace of iron, and it is only three-fourths as hard as water available from deep wells.

This was determined from chemical analysis of samples of water taken from the wells of several local industries. Said wells are representative of the type of water we could expect to obtain from underground supply.

IRON HAS no particular physiological significance, but it does have a harmful effect upon laundry of various fabrics, and it causes dark reddish brown stains upon bathroom fixtures. Iron can be removed from a water supply, but extra treatment facilities are required for the purpose. All of which contributes to cost of treatment.

In view of their findings, the engineers, for reasons of economy were forced to admit, that, in spite of local thinking and expression, the present location is the most desirable. In view of their study, I am frank to admit that apparently the engineers are right.

The engineers further state and we agree that our storage is on the wrong end of the line. If a break should occur in the force-main between the city and the plant, where the stand-pipe is located, the city would be without water. Therefore it has been recommended that elevated storage of at least 400,000 gallons should be provided on this end of the line—in town. Within the last two weeks the Ohio Inspection Bureau has made a survey, relative to fire insurance and classification for Circleville, and elevated storage, in town, was pointed to as a necessity. On the basis of our improvement program, as outlined, there is a distinct possibility of having Circleville placed in the next better insurance classification, which would mean a saving to premium payers for fire insurance.

IN CONSIDERATION of all the items which have an influence upon YOU, the owners, of the water department, relative to improvements in your water business enterprise, we are sincere in the belief that the steps we are about to take are in the right direction. Construction costs, material shortages, financial considerations, are such as to indicate that we have to

CHAPLIN FILM BOYCOTTED BY OHIO THEATRES

Whether the Grand and Cliftona theaters in Circleville will join other Ohio motion picture houses in boycotting the recently released Charlie Chaplin film, "Monsieur Verdoux", was undetermined Thursday afternoon.

The management of the theaters in Circleville, which are part of a chain of movie houses operated by the Chakkers Theater Corporation headquartered at Springfield, said no notification had been received from headquarters relative to the Chaplin picture. It was stated that the film is not now booked for showing in Circleville.

A group of Ohio theater owners launched a concerted campaign Wednesday to halt the showing of the Chaplin film in this state and they called upon similar owners in other states to "give serious thought to the matter of withholding screen time" from the famed comedian's recently released film.

P. J. Wood, Columbus, secretary of the Independent Theater Owners of Ohio, declared that the group hoped to launch a nationwide boycott by theater owners.

U. S. SAVINGS ACCOUNTS MAY PLAY ROLE IN NEW NINE-BILLION-DOLLAR WORLD BANK

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The most unusual bank in history, the nine-billion-dollar World Bank, is about ready to open its doors at last, following installation this month of a new president and other momentous happenings which may herald a new era of global finance.

The event is of more than ordinary interest to the average savings account depositor in the 27,000 banks throughout the United States, for if everything goes well, many American banks may use part of those funds to buy bonds as investments in the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

The amazing new institution—best known as one of the twin creations of the historic Bretton Woods conference, the other being the mammoth International Monetary Fund to stabilize world currencies—will never accept any deposits as ordinary banks do, or act like any other bank the world has ever seen.

The bank's only customers will be the 40 nations which also are its stockholders, and that does not include Russia, Australia, New Zealand, or Liberia—all participants in Bretton Woods meetings in 1944 but conspicuous by their absence at the deadline for admissions last Dec. 31, 1946.

Because of the major role which the United States will play in operation of both the bank and the fund, this nation was permitted to name the president. He draws a tax-free $30,000 per year, which is more real earnings than any public official makes in this country except the president himself, but the job went begging for nearly three months.

McCloy Takes Over

John J. McCloy, New York lawyer and undersecretary of war during part of World War II, finally accepted, and took over on March 17. He named Robert Livingston Garner, New York banker and business executive, to be vice-president.

McCloy succeeded Eugene Meyer, Washington, D. C., newspaper publisher and former banker, who marshaled the bank during its organization period and then resigned. Garner replaces the late Harold D. Smith, former director of the United States budget, who died of a heart attack while he was filling in for Meyer during the interim while a new head was named.

Other key American is Eugene Black, Jr., New York banker, who met near the gauntlet of Senate confirmation since he is not an international appointee as are McCloy and Garner.

McCloy and Garner. However, it is confirmed he may be more powerful than either of the others.

Black and 11 other directors chosen by the stockholder nations are the bosses of the bank; McCloy and Garner work for them. It was this situation which apparently made the job unattractive for many leading American financiers who are supposed to have turned it down. Their shying away from the job shook some confidence in the bank, and created some problems for McCloy to inherit.

However, the bank already is well-heeled, speaking even in the terms of the fabulously rich banking standards of the United States. It is like the United Nations at this stage, in that it has no permanent home yet and rents quarters, but it has hundreds of millions of dollars in funds already.

It is a big investor in the United States, in fact, for it has purchased $147,316,172.95 in United States Treasury certificates of indebtedness, bought in the open market. Uncle Sam's interest rate of seven-eighths percent pays the initial overhead of the World Bank.

The potentially most powerful and influential banking house in world history—far surpassing that of the fabulous Rothschilds, for example—does not even have a vault. So the Federal Reserve bank of New York and a few other big banks have the unusual role of serving as depositories for millions of dollars flowing into the financial colossus.

This influx of money comes from the capital contributions of the stockholder nations, the United States being committed by the Bretton Woods agreement to put up $3,175,000,000 of the $9,100,000,000 cash and international I. O. U. paper.

But very little of it has been called for yet. Installments were levied on the stockholders last November, and 5 per cent payments were asked for Feb. 25 and March 25 of this year, raising the total to an unexpected $700,000,000 paid in as a starter.

As yet no loan has been made. France has applied and the bank's committees are mulling over other loan requests totaling more than two billion dollars. When the bank is going full blast, it expects to offer bonds to the public as an investment.

These are the bonds which are of interest to the United States savings banks and the American savings bank depositors, for only investors in the United States and Canada are expected to have very much to put into such bonds.

Tense Moment Ahead

It will be a tense moment when they are first offered for sale, for then the first showing of confidence or lack-of-confidence in the biggest experiment in international financing will be given.

No one knows better than the financiers what strange tricks public confidence plays in the fortunes of great banking houses, and the ambitious experiment in world financing will have to stand the test that has made or broken nationalistic banks in the past.

Ardent supporters of the bank say that its future is rosy, for it will be able to pledge worldwide loan security, as well as the credit it will have among the stockholder nations.

The World Bank has been compared with a gigantic global reconstruction Finance Corporation.

It will concentrate, say its leaders, on "income loans"; that is, it will try to boost lagging economies, but will look for good investment possibilities too.

In an era marked by world-wide legislation by the U. N., the World Court acting as a global supreme tribunal, and a world army in the making under the U. N. Security council, the bank's backers say it is logical that a great planetary bank should make its bow.

Though it was created at Bretton Woods also, the International Monetary Fund is entirely separate from the bank. It is to try stabilizing all the world currencies in exchange and to curb inflation.

Russia is a holdout from this fund also, and seven other nations have not agreed to the exact formula for the exchange—Brazil, Uruguay, China, Dominican Republic, Greece, Poland and Yugoslavia.

The fund is a colorful operation having to do with the world-wide value of the American dollar, the Belgian and French franc, the British pound, the peso of South America and Mexico, the rupee of India, and such exotic pieces of money as Iraq's dinar and Norway's krona.

The bank's headquarters are here in Washington, making it the world center of financial gravity. Americans, with their own thrilling panorama of bank development stretching from the days of Andrew Jackson's "war" with the Bank of the United States to the famous "bank holiday" in 1934, now have a ringside seat for the most startling innovation in world finance since the ancient Babylonians hit on the idea of a bank as a way to organize their commerce.

NEWS Behind the NEWS

The politicians all expect he will veto it for political reasons, if no other. The major Democratic strength outside the South has been among the unions and city political machines which were allied politically, and the veto would be designed to perpetuate this alliance for 1948. As Gov. Dewey's man, Senator Ives, cast the deciding vote which weakened the senate committee bill (7 to 6), the supposedly leading Republican presidential candidate has assumed a pro-rank-and-file character against Senator Taft, and also Speaker Martin, whose leadership secured house passage of the firm Hartley bill.

These developments have grown out of senate consideration of the measure which thus strangely has assumed something of the character of an anticlimax.

Opinions expressed by the writer in the columns are the views of the author and not necessarily those of the Circleville Herald.

LEADING THE top of your partner's bid suit is a bad habit if you follow it always. The late Wilbur C. Whitehead advised several exceptions. In most ordinary situations a fourth-best from four or more, if you had not supported the suit, was recommended, unless you had touching honors at the top or, in some occasions, the ace. At other times, if the declarer's bidding had indicated a probable honor or so in the suit, it could pay to underlead an honor in a three-card suit—a No Trump style of lead.

Vulnerable Mr. North thought that not-vulnerable West might have been "psyching" with his heart bid, so doubled the first time and showed the suit himself on his second turn. After that South decided to see if game was not better makeable in the major. It all sounded awfully strong to North, who gently invited slam with 5-Spades, which South properly passed. It's good he did, as he required great good luck to make it.

West mechanically opened the top of his partner's club suit. After his K won, he led to East's A, setting up South's Q. The rest was easy for South, who took the remaining tricks.

Note what would have happened if West led his club 8. The A would have won and the returned 4 would have trapped the Q under the K-J, setting the one-trick high contract. With a club honor located in South's hand by his 2-No Trump bid on the second round, West had every possible good reason to lead a low club instead of his top card.

If East had rebid hearts, North rebid diamonds and South had called clubs, spades and then No Trumps, what should West lead against the No Trump game?

The AFL is spending $300,000 on this radio campaign "to educate the American public on conditions which will ensue if such anti-labor legislation is passed by congress." The public and its legislative representatives probably have never been told in a nicer way what's brewing in the congressional hopper.

Last night's variety show, complete with singing jingles advertising labor, of course, was an agglomeration of some of the entertainment world's top rung talent, satirist Henry Morgan, comedian Milton Berle, singer Georgia Gibbs, the De Marco sisters and Ray Bloch's orchestra. Part of the half hour was given over to a play, called "The Hiccups of Alfred Higgins," written by playwright Arthur Miller whose current Broadway hit recently won drama honors.

LIQUOR AGENTS TO BE SCHOOLED LIKE PATROLMEN

COLUMBUS, O., May 9—An intensified training program for state liquor enforcement agents, patterned after that of the highway patrol, was announced today by Governor Herbert.

The governor said that 40 men would be taken from the top of the civil service list and sent to the highway patrol's training station south of Columbus for a two-week course under Patrol Lieut. Floyd Noon.

Two later training periods for approximately 80 more men will follow. At present there are about 110 provisional appointees on the liquor enforcement staff.

The training program is in line with the recommendation of the senate's liquor investigating committee. Herbert said the short courses would be in law techniques and "to imbue them with the spirit of discipline and courtesy we have in the highway patrol."

BIKINI TARGET SHIPS REMAIN HOT AFTER YEAR

Atom Blast Contamination Hampers Observation By Naval Scientists

WASHINGTON, May 9 — Almost a year after detonation of the historic Bikini atomic bombs, some target ships of the strange guinea-pig fleet still are listed as "too hot to handle" by the Navy department.

An official announcement today said intensive study of the effects of the bomb are continuing on vessels which are the "most interesting from the point of view of structural damage and radiological contamination."

MANY of the ships remain at Kwajalein awaiting ultimate disposition. Naval shipyards at Pearl Harbor and San Francisco are still examining the blackened hulls of some of the survivors.

The Navy officially revealed that numerous target craft which remained afloat after the devastating underwater explosion in the second test still were "heavily contaminated" by radioactive materials.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

There are a few simple pleasures left to us in this embattled world. It is now possible to have your appendix out to music.

In a Brooklyn hospital the doctors will take your request for six records and play them while you drift into ether land.

"Cement Mixer" is good for stomach surgery—in fact selections range all the way to "South of the Border".

Dentists are also going in for "music to operate by". With them "Open Your Mouth, Richard" is tops.

There's one other note of progress: a New York dance studio is being picketed by CIO organizers. It was felt that the time had come to introduce Arthur Murray to Phil Murray.

The pickets danced the conga which is not taught by Murray. This was in the tradition that pickets should be strangers to the picketed.

Company I Approved At Federal Inspection

Company I, Circleville unit of the Ohio National Guard, passed federal inspection Thursday night and soon will be recognized as part of the new national guard setup.

Lt. Col. Harold D. Haskell, regular Army officer from Columbus, inspected the three officers and 25 men that make up the company at present. He complimented Captain Jack Clifton on the group of "good looking men" he had recruited and praised the armory facilities. He said the facilities here were among the best he has seen in Ohio.

Within the new few weeks the company will receive equipment from the government. This will include uniforms, rifles, pistols, machine guns, mortar, four Jeeps and other equipment to outfit a complete rifle company.

Federal pay for the company started with Thursday night's meeting and regular salary checks will be received by members.

Drills will be held every Tuesday at 8 p. m., Capt. Clifton announced.

He said the company was still

YUGOSLAVIA OUT OF BOUNDS FOR YANK TRAVELERS

WASHINGTON, May 9 — The United States has ruled Yugoslavia — a Russian satellite state — out of bounds for American travelers.

This action was disclosed today by the state department. Yugoslavia has made an issue of the American action on the grounds that the restriction bars postwar tourist trade and travel to the coast resort areas on the Dalmatian coast.

The order was issued sometime in February after the state department announced that there would be a general lifting of passport restrictions of the tourist trade.

AKRON MOVES TO BALK STRIKE OF EDUCATORS

AKRON, O., May 9—The Akron school board drafted a four-point counter proposal today in an effort to avert a threatened strike of Akron teachers.

More than 800 teachers, protesting the failure of a 3.85-mill levy to raise salaries, voted to empower their executive board to "take whatever action necessary," presumably including strike action.

The teachers demanded that the school board answer their request for a $350 lump sum payment this semester to "preclude further action."

The board's proposal included offers of a raise of from $350 to $450 in the annual rate beginning next fall if the Daniels-Cramer bill passes the state legislature; submission of a levy in the fall elections similar to the 3.85-mill levy; retroactive pay to the beginning of the fall semester; and reaffirmation of a new single-salary schedule.

NAVAL PILOT DUNKS PLANE TO DUNK FLAMES

CHICAGO, May 9—Five navy fliers were recovering today from the harrowing experience of crash-landing in Lake Michigan after their PBV flying boat caught fire while cruising over the lake.

For more than two hours before they finally were brought ashore by a coast guard rescue crew the fliers were buffeted by high waves and one had a narrow escape from drowning when washed overboard.

The men were participating in gunnery practice when one motor of the big flying boat burst into flames at 1,000 feet altitude.

The fire was extinguished when Ensign Richard Brooks, 22, of Louisville, Ky., piloted the plane to a semi-nose dive into the lake three miles off shore near Wilmette harbor north of Chicago.

WAPAKONETA, O., May 9 — Mrs. W. C. Davis of Wapakoneta said goodbye today to $15,000 worth of jewelry she brought home from a Columbus shopping trip by mistake.

The jewels were in a bag owned by Jack Goldman, Chicago salesman, which Mrs. Davis was given by mistake at a Columbus hotel.

Goldman noticed his loss and hotel authorities traced the mix-up. A phone call reached Mrs. Davis before she opened the bag. Arrangements were made for an exchange of bags.

PLAN TO DELAY ACTION ON TAX BILL DOOMED

Republicans Ready To Vote Down Motion Of Foes In Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, May 9—Democratic members of the senate finance committee planned a move today to postpone action on the GOP tax reduction bill until July 15. Their effort, however, was foredoomed to failure.

Republicans in control of the committee were ready to vote down this and any like motion, defeat the Lucas Democratic substitute bill and complete action on the house-approved tax relief measure by night-fall, if possible.

A MINORITY spokesman disclosed that the motion to put off tax action until mid-July, when more accurate fiscal facts on federal receipts and expenditures will be available, was to be the first Democratic move in committee.

Chairman Millikin (R) Col., predicted the majority plan would probably result in these reductions:

30 per cent on taxable income up to $1,000; from 30 to 20 per cent on $1,000 to $1,400 of income; 20 per cent from $1,400 to $100,000; 15 per cent from $100,000 to $302,000 and 10 per cent above $302,000.

Millikin predicted his committee would vote first on the substitute bill of Sen. Lucas (D) Ill., which would boost personal exemptions, reduce surtaxes and give husbands and wives the privilege of splitting incomes for tax purposes.

Early Indications In County Point To Loss Below State Average

Pickaway county fruit growers were leaning toward the optimistic side Friday, despite an announcement from the Ohio University extension service that the frost and freeze had severely damaged fruit in this area.

Several local orchardists said they believed the fruit crop had escaped extensive damage.

A NEW RECORD for low temperature in May was set Friday morning when the mercury dropped to 28 degrees, four below freezing. Thursday morning's low was 29. The weatherman held out no hopes for warmer weather Friday night and Saturday morning.

The official forecast for this area said "clearing and cold with frost or freezing temperatures again tonight. Saturday increasing cloudiness and warmer, followed by rain."

Charles Carter, Circleville weather observer, said Thursday's high temperature was only 48 degrees. He reported freezing at the weather station but no frost. In other parts of the county an icy frost was heavy.

MOST DAMAGE by the freezes of the last two days was believed to be to early garden crops and berries. Strawberries were reported to be particularly hard hit.

Extent of the fruit and vegetable damage will show up in the next few days, orchardists and gardeners said. When the sun comes out warm, drooping leaves and blackened blossoms will reveal the loss.

Lateness of Spring this year has helped prevent extensive

OHIO TELEPHONE STRIKE AT WATCH AND WAIT STAGE

CLEVELAND, May 9 — Officials of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company and the Ohio Federation of Telephone workers adopted a "watch-and-wait" attitude today as the Ohio strike went into another period of inactivity.

No sign of any break was forthcoming since the union yesterday rejected a company offer of a $4-a-week general increase.

Although one company spokesman asserted that both sides were "subject to call," he said no meetings were scheduled.

The company and union negotiators have been meeting with Federal Labor Conciliator T. W. Robertson, who said, however, that an early resumption of negotiations would be made and a speedy settlement reached.

Nearly 20,000 telephone workers in the state have been idled by the strike, which began April 7.

Settlement of the long-lines dispute had no immediate effect on the Ohio scene as the operators in that division awaited solution of local problems.

FROST SLASHES PRODUCTION OF FRUIT IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., May 9—Ohio State University horticulture professor Archibald Van Dorn reported today that last night's low temperatures and frost caused extensive damage to fruit crops throughout the state.

Van Dorn said a low of 26 degrees was recorded in Ohio State orchards. He reported that peaches and apples beyond the peak blossom stage were killed, while strawberry, cherry and current crops were extensively damaged.

The horticulturist added that similar results could be expected generally throughout the state with the exception of the Lake Erie region. He asserted damage would be less in orchards on hills than in those located in valleys where frost could collect.

"Farm experts at Dayton estimated that the peach crop was 50 per cent destroyed and believed the strawberry crop was a total loss. A 28-degree temperature was reported.

UNITED NATIONS HEADING TOWARD U. S. QUIZ BOARD

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 9 —The United Nations is heading today in the direction of the United States plan for a fact-finding commission on Palestine with broad functional powers, but excluding the Big Five powers.

A stumbling block to swift achievement of the first U. N. goal toward a Holy Land solution is the Soviet Union's challenge to the proposed shutting out of the Big Five powers from this investigating group.

The apex of the clash between the American and Russian viewpoint, already splitting the 55 U. N. members, will be deferred until tomorrow by the fact that the political and security committee's agenda is crammed with preliminary events.

The three-man court sentenced Osmena to life imprisonment and assessed a $10,000 fine, then granted a period of provisional release with bail fixed at $25,000.

Treason charges against Osmena arose from his economic collaboration with the Japanese during the wartime occupation of the Philippines.

GOP SENATOR FEARS DEATH BLOW TO UNIONS

Malone Says Provision For Shop Votes Puts Club In Employers' Hands

WASHINGTON, May 9—Sen. Malone (R) Nev., today broke with the senate GOP leadership over the labor bill. Malone said shop section "could break every a 'hidden' provision in its union union in the country."

The Nevada senator threatened to vote against the bill unless the provision is changed, and predicted other GOP freshmen would join him.

Malone asserted that as written, the provision supposedly giving workers a union shop by majority vote would only give them the chance to bargain for it. He declared it would open the way for employers to fill their plants with strikebreakers while pretending to bargain, and to fire union members.

He introduced an amendment which he said would do "what most senators have been led to believe the bill would do as it now is written."

HIS CHALLENGE came as GOP Policy Chairman Taft (R) Ohio, and Majority Whip Wherry (R) Neb., won an agreement for a vote this afternoon on Taft's substitute modifying the Taft-Ball anti-boycott amendment, and on the amendment itself.

Taft and Wherry failed, however, to get the final vote on the bill set for next Tuesday. Sen. Revercomb (R) W. Va., objected to that, and also blocked an effort to limit to one-half hour each debate on at least eight other pending amendments.

TAFT WAS having leadership trouble on both sides of the issue. Besides the bolt by Malone, Taft lost support of Sen. Ball (R) Minn., in his proposal to modify their boycott amendment in the face of polls that indicated defeat for the Harshar version.

The anti-boycott amendment would allow employers to go direct to court themselves — instead of appealing to the regional National Labor Relations board attorney — to get temporary injunctions against illegal boycotts and jurisdiction al strikes.

When leadership polls indicated trouble, Taft proposed to take out the injunctive process provisions, and leave only sections giving employers the right to sue for damages by illegal stoppages. Ball refused to join in that proposal.

EX-WIFE BACKS GUN SLINGING SOONER SOLON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 9—The former wife of Rep. Jimmie Scott, accused of shooting state Sen. Tom Anglin, 64, on the senate floor, came to his defense today.

Scott was held in the Oklahoma City jail on a formal charge of assault with intent to kill. His bond was fixed at $5,000.

Scott declared the shooting was a result of his ex-wife's recent divorce action and her subsequent suit to enforce a property settlement. Anglin's law firm represented her in both cases. Both Scott and Anglin, who was wounded in the hip, are from Holdenville, Okla.

From her Holdenville residence the former Mrs. Scott sent word that she intended to come to Oklahoma City, and "stick by" Scott. She declared that she still loved him and never had wanted a divorce.

Navy said, the ships are unsafe for permanent occupancy. But the Navy's experts on radiological matters, in cooperation with the bureau of medicine and surgery, have listed some as safe for temporary working and observation providing specific and stringent safety precautions are complied with.

Meanwhile, the Navy disclosed that intensive efforts are underway to find an effective means of radiological decontamination as part of the "program of preparation against atomic warfare."

THE NAVY and the atomic energy commission are cooperating in the drive to find a decontamination laboratory. A special research radiation laboratory has been established at the San Francisco naval yard to prosecute research and development while continuous liaison is maintained with the radiation laboratory at the university of California.

At the same time, the navy department disclosed it is training a "number of officers" to serve as radiological monitors. They will be the nucleus of a radiological safety organization in the event of atomic warfare.

Safety standards already being employed under the stringent precautionary program are even higher than those required for personnel engaged in X-ray work and in industrial use of radium.

TWO HURT WHEN AUTO PLUNGES FROM HIGHWAY

Two persons were injured Thursday afternoon when the auto in which they were riding plunged from the Island road at the Sturms and Dillard company.

Only some thorn trees kept the auto from falling into the "kettle hole" at the plant.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said that Lawrence Styers, Circleville resident who has been staying in Columbus, was driving northwest, when he lost control of the auto on a curve. It crashed through the guard rail, broke off a telephone pole and was finally stopped by some small trees.

Fred Henn, East Main street, suffered a deep laceration of the left hand. He was treated by Dr. J. M. Hedges and was confined to Berger hospital Friday. Also injured was Ann DeWees, Jackson, who had a six-inch laceration from above her left eye back on her scalp, a laceration of her mouth and had a tooth knocked out. She was attended by Dr. Hedges and removed to her home.

Escaping injury were Eddie Brungs, 116 Town street, Paul Cupp and Louise Reese, both of Columbus.

Funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the Snyder funeral home, Mt. Sterling, with burial in the Darbyville cemetery.

Old King Cole of the nursery rhyme is usually identified with the semi-mythical King Collus, Coll or Cole, who, on doubtful testimony, is said to have succeeded Asclepiodotus on the throne of Britain in the third century after Christ. It is said that Colchester, whose walls he built, was named after him and a large earthenware in that city, supposed to have been a Roman amphitheater, is called "King Cole's Kitchen."

ed to take up other amendments—most of them offered by Democrats and conceded no chance of adoption. Then the senators will begin voting on the house bill itself, first acting on the issue of retroactivity.

Millikin said he expected the bill to "follow the general pattern" of the house measure, which grants some three billion 800 million dollars in tax relief.

THE CHAIRMAN said it was the intent of the committee to make the tax cuts effective on July 1. He conceded that because the reduction would apply only on the second half of calendar 1947, taxpayers getting the 20 per cent cut would have an "actual" reduction in 1947 taxes of only 10 per cent.

TENTATIVE CUT LOPS MILLIONS OFF NAVY FUND

WASHINGTON, May 9 — The Navy's request for funds for 1948 was reliably reported today to have been tentatively slashed 10 per cent by a house appropriations subcommittee.

A member of the subcommittee, who asked that his name be withheld, revealed that a cut of 350 million dollars for the Navy department is being recommended to the full appropriations committee.

A budget of $3,504,546,300 for the Navy during the new fiscal year beginning July 1 was requested by President Truman.

A 5 1/2 per cent reduction also has been reported for funds for the Army. A cut of 300 million dollars was said to have been made on the Army department's request for $5,717,791,000.

Unless revised, the subcommittee action would enable the GOP economy campaign to effect a nine per cent savings on purely military funds for the armed services. Funds for the civil functions carried on by the war department still are to be considered.

District Attorney Francis Garity and Sheriff George Perry theorized that the gypsies may have learned that Georgia Jean's father as Jefferson county treasurer frequently received checks in the mail.

The two officials said the Gypsies might have seen the little girl walking down a half-mile lane toward her home after taking letters from the roadside mail box.

Meanwhile, search for the missing child spread to Upper Michigan. The new search was based on the report of an attendant at a filling station between Marquette and Munising.

The attendant told state police that a suspiciously-acting and nervous man stopped at the station last night to buy some crackers.

The customer explained that a "young kid" in his car was hungry.

In Fayette county contract was awarded to L. P. Cavett company, Lockland, for improvements on sections of state routes 38, 734 and 753. Total cost is $25,751.19.

BERLIN, May 9 — The threat that troops would be used to seize hoarded foodstuffs to avert an emergency today confronted German farmers in the American zone.

Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, commander of the American zone, prodded farmers into making food deliveries and warned that he would not hesitate to use the army. He added:

"If such drastic measures are necessary, we will take them. We can confiscate the farmers' stocks.

"If this is necessary, I will order it. I still have an army here."

CLOSELY following the pattern of the "Black Dahlia" slaying, the nude and mutilated body of Mrs. Dorothy Montgomery (above), 36, was found under a pepper tree in a vacant lot in Los Angeles. Mother of three children, she had been missing since leaving in the family car the day before, to pick up one of her daughters. The car was found five miles away. (International)

Pressure Canner Gauges Will Be Checked May 16

Pressure canner gauges will be tested at The Ohio Fuel Gas company office in Circleville on May 16, from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Miss Betty Newton, Home Service Department, The Gas company, emphasizes the importance of having the pressure canner gauge tested, and the valve checked each year. The complete cover of the pressure canner should be taken to the clinic for the free testing service.

Women may leave the covers at The Gas company office at any time on May 16, and return for them later in the day, Miss Newton said. She urged that women take advantage of this opportunity, when equipment will be available to test the gauges, even though the pressure canners are not to be used immediately.

Throughout the day, Miss Newton and Miss Genevieve Alley, county home demonstration agent, will be present to discuss any phase of food preservation. All women are invited to obtain the free booklet, with complete information on canning, prepared by Miss Newton; also a leaflet with recipes for new and different ways of serving home-canned fruits and vegetables.

Dresbach aid members will gather Thursday at 2 p. m. for their regular meeting, in the home of Mrs. O. S. Mowery, Saltcreek township. Assisting hostess will be her daughter, Mrs. Wayne Luckhart.

Mrs. Sterley Croman and her niece, Miss Betty McCoy, route 4, attended the Thursday evening concert of the New York philharmonic orchestra in Memorial hall, Columbus.

ADVISERS WANT PRESIDENT TO VISIT PEOPLE

Truman's Fast Air Trips Keep Him From Meeting Voters
Of The Country

WASHINGTON, May 9—Presidential advisers are counselling him to get out in the country more and let the voters see him.

Their eyes already are trained on November, 1948. Mr. Truman is their accepted candidate for the Democratic nomination.

As the result, a heavy schedule of presidential travel is likely for the last six months of this year.

PRESIDENTIAL intimates argue that in Mr. Truman's two years in the White House, despite the many trips he has taken, the country as a whole has seen him in person very little.

They back their thesis up further with the belief that wherever the President has gone, wherever he has come in contact with everyday people, he has won them instantly by his native charm and down-to-earthness.

One of the big drawbacks to this has been the President's fondness for air travel. His big four-engine plane, "the flying White House," can take him wherever he wants to go within a few hours.

This coming Sunday, the president will fly out to Missouri for a three-hour visit with his 94-year-old mother. He will breakfast at the White House, lunch in Missouri, and be back in the White House for dinner.

All of this high-speed travel, according to White House advisers, stacks up to a lot of ground covered in a short time but with virtually none of the voters seeing him.

THEY WANT Mr. Truman to get back on the presidential train and make a lot of rear platform appearances on swings around the country.

The advisers aren't having too easy a time of it. The President simply likes air travel. A complicating factor to their arguments is that the President soon will get a bigger and far faster plane, the new 300-mile-an-hour "flying White House," a DC-6.

Mr. Truman has travelled on a train very few times while in the White House. He did make one trip to Missouri by train just before the last November election. He has made two brief trips to and from New York City, and two to the annual Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia.

A Pacific coast trip is quite likely. The President wants to revisit Washington state, and then take the presidential yacht Williamsburg for a leisurely voyage up to Alaska.

ONE ALMOST certain train trip is to come before then. The President is scheduled to make his first visit to Canada June 10-13. This will be a goodwill state visit similar to his journey to Mexico. Unless a change is made he will use the train.

ORDER BEING WORKED OUT OF ASSEMBLY MESS

Leadership Concentrating On Six Of 800 Bills Given To Ohio Solons

COLUMBUS, O., May 9 — A semblance of system was rising slowly today from the welter of confusion surrounding the 800 bills introduced in the Ohio legislature.

Of the 800, less than 50 have been passed into law, although the session has lasted 18 weeks to date.

The leadership now is concentrating on six major problems, however. When they are out of the way the solons are expected to call its quits and adjourn for the year.

The problems are those of aid to schools, aid to local governments, a soldier bonus, the general appropriations bill, the additions and betterments bill, and the sundry claims bill.

HERE IS their present status: Aid to schools — The Daniels-Cramer school bill, already passed by the senate, is awaiting house action after the house education committee cut its payment rate from 88 to 83 millions a year.

Aid to local governments — This is the most ticklish problem facing the solons, but is gradually taking shape. The house taxation committee has recommended for passage a bill which probably will be the basis of the program.

In all, the local aid program totals some 32 millions, as against the 12 millions received by the subdivisions up to 1944, the 16 millions in 1945, and the 21 millions in 1946.

This program still has to clear both houses.

SOLDIER BONUS—The senate has passed and sent to the house a proposed constitutional amendment to pay a maximum $400 bonus, based on $10 for each month's domestic service and $15 for foreign service.

The general appropriations bill — The bill, totaling $594 millions plus another 75 millions as a first payment on the bonus if approved in November by the voters, passed the house this week after months of study by the house finance committee.

It is 85 million dollars above expenses for 1945-46, but still faces a fight by the school lobby to increase aid to schools. The senate may insert amendments which could cause a house-senate deadlock to be resolved only by a conference committee.

THE ADDITIONS and betterments bill—This bill, providing funds for permanent building and post-war improvements, hasn't even been introduced as yet. However, finance director Herbert Defenbacher has it about ready for submission, and it may be introduced next week. It is expected to appropriate some 80 million dollars.

The sundry claims bill — This measure normally takes lengthy hearing, but two years ago the law about claims against the state was amended to permit the board of control to pay, at its discretion all claims up to $200.

The house finance committee is clearing its decks for the reception of the additions and betterments and the sundry claims bill, lending further credence to reports that the leaders are now aiming for final adjournment sometime next month.

FIRE BOMBS OF MASKED RAIDERS STIR TEL AVIV

JERUSALEM, May 9 — Four incendiary bomb fires started by masked raiders in shops in the center of Tel Aviv were believed today to presage violence against Jewish storekeepers selling foreign goods.

The estimated damage caused by the fires totalled 80 thousand dollars.

The raiders, believed to be members of the Jewish underground, in each case adopted the same technique. They drove up in taxis, ordered the owner and staff out of the stores, and beat up those who refused to obey.

A Palestine Jew was killed and another wounded by Arab armed guards stationed at a road block near Latrun.

CHANGES CHARGED

MOSCOW, May 9 — The Soviet press charged today that the American press was guilty of several deliberate changes and errors in publishing the text of the Harold E. Stassen interview with Premier Stalin.

MUSTER WARNS OF SOIL LOSS

Rotarians Told Of Dwindling Mineral Content Of Pickaway Farms

Warning of the menace of dwindling mineral content of the soil in Pickaway county, Soil Conservationist James A. Muster in a talk to members of the Rotary club Thursday following a noon luncheon in the Pickaway Arms, appealed to business and professional men to arouse interest in the aims of soil conservation.

"Only nine of the major minerals remain in our known domestic reserves in sufficient quantity of usable grade to last 100 years or more," Muster declared, "and our known usable reserves of 22 essential minerals have dwindled to a 35-year supply or less."

"It behooves us to learn the true meaning of our meager supply, which is not that we will be weak 100 years from now, but that we are now relatively weak."

REFERRING to the disastrous soil losses which the nation is suffering Muster mentioned the repeated statement of Dr. Hugh Bennett of the Soil Conservation service, that "we are losing every day as a result of erosion, the equivalent of 200 40-acre farms."

That Pickaway county is not immune to this loss, Muster said, is shown by the silt-laden muddy waters which fill ditches, creeks and rivers after every heavy rain. Sheet erosion, that is not noticed by the farmer, he declared is the type that does the most harm locally since it is not apparent, such as gully erosion.

"Other serious soil losses which Pickaway county suffers are those mineral losses experienced in leaching and in crop and livestock and livestock products removals, also in the exhaustion of the organic matter of our soils. No farmer escapes these losses, no matter how level and free of erosion it may be."

"People are lulled into a false feeling of security by reading that crop yields are as high now as they were 75 years ago, never realizing that present yields are not being made on the same acres which grew the yields of former years. Millions of acres of formerly good crop land have been ruined and new land has been put into use. The development of higher yielding crops and of machinery, both capable of causing heavier soil depletion also help create this deception."

Extreme race haters are on the verge of mental imbalance, blaming a racial group for their own shortcomings, questionnaires and psychological tests have shown.

ROYAL JUPITER WILL BE SHOWN HERE ON MAY 20

International Champion Steer
To Be Exhibited At
County Fairgrounds

Royal Jupiter, international grand champion steer, will be shown at a free exhibition at the fairgrounds Tuesday, May 20, at 2:30 p. m.

Special ceremonies are being worked out to welcome the steer crowned "King Sirloin 1947" by Robert S. Kerr, former governor of Oklahoma, in a special ceremony at Oklahoma A and M College. He has been named Oklahoma's "ambassador of good beef" by Governor Roy Turner, a widely known Hereford breeder.

When he is shown here Pickaway county youth will be brought by school bus to see the champion and several special honors are planned.

IT IS FITTING that the $14,490 Shorthorn, who is being sent on a 22,000 mile educational tour by his purchasers, The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, travel like the blueblood that he is. He is being exhibited in leading cattle growing communities in every section of the country.

To keep the Grand Champion in the same peak condition which won for him first place over every other steer shown at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, Firestone has provided King Sirloin with an actual "Palace on Wheels." This "palace" is a huge and beautiful truck and has every convenience any steer born to the purple could demand.

Large plexi-glass windows along the truck's sides cut down any sun glare and also allow the grand champion to look out on the countryside as he travels from one area to another. Venetian blinds can be lowered should the King demand absolute privacy and rest. The palace is air conditioned and contains its own heating plant so Royal Jupiter can regulate the temperature and humidity to suit his whims.

HIS OWN special diet and the water to which he is accustomed is stored in the truck. Firestone has covered the floor with Foamex rubber to cushion His Highness against the jars and jolts of the road.

If the grand champion should want music to soothe his noble heart, a record player built into the truck can be tuned immediately to the Blue Danube Waltz. Reports from Oklahoma A. and M. indicate that Royal Jupiter

TWIN MARKS OF GRADUATES TOLD BEXLEY TWINS OF BENEFITS OF SET PRECEDENTS ARMY SERVICE

COLUMBUS, O., May 9 — Twins set twin precedents with twin marks at Bexley high school today.

Charlotte and Jane Thomas, 17-year-old sisters, made straight "A's" in their four-year career at Bexley high school to tie for top honors and become the first twin valedictorians in the school's history. They are also the first seniors to be tied for the highest grades.

Both girls have different interests in school, with Charlotte favoring mathematics and science and Jane leaning toward the arts. But both expect to continue their higher education at Miami university.

Maybe the fact that their maternal grandfather, Dr. H. F. Vallance, is dean of Miami's graduate school has something to do with their educational achievement.

Charlotte, of course, does not recommend this as a standard procedure in handling steers, according to H. E. Graef, Firestone manager here. Rather, these unusual precautions are taken to insure that the Grand Champion does not go stale, but retains his true championship form while on this arduous 20,000 mile tour of the nation.

High school graduates are being reminded this week that the provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights are still in effect and that they may still take advantage of the many benefits that are provided following an enlistment in the Regular Army of from 1½ to 3 years, Sergeant Foye Pearson of the Circleville Army recruiting station announced Friday.

"An enlistment in the Army is not a duty but an opportunity to earn a college education, including tuition, books, lab fees etc., plus an allowance of $65 a month while attending the college, trade or business school of your own choice," the sergeant stated.

The U. S. Army is accepting applications for enlistment of qualified young men between the ages of 17 and 34. Enlistment periods are for 18 months, 24 months and 36 months and applicants may choose their branch of service and theatre of operations that have quotas to be filled. Complete information may be obtained by visiting the U. S. Army recruiting station, V. F. W. club building in Circleville.

HOUSE STRIVES FOR FINAL VOTE ON GREEK AID

Limit On Army Missions
Tops Amendments To
Truman Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 9 — The house strove for a final vote today on President Truman's program to aid Greece and Turkey and halt the spread of communism.

The chamber convened two hours earlier than usual, in an effort to complete action by tonight.

As consideration of the 400 million dollar authorization, already approved by the senate, went into its fourth successive day, Speaker Martin (R) Mass., said the prospects for a final vote were good.

Topping the many amendments that remained to be disposed of was a proposal by Reps. Mundt (R) S. D., and Judd (R) Minn., foreign affairs committee members, Greece and Turkey be limited to 200 men each.

THEY SAID the country wanted some assurance that no expeditionary force would be sent to the mediterranean. They were joined by another committee member, Rep. Bolton (R) Ohio. Eaton bill, a companion measure to that passed by the senate 68-23.

The major test of opposition strength was expected to come late in the afternoon on an amendment by Rep. Smith (R) Wis., to delay the President's program for 60 days to allow the United Nations to assume jurisdiction.

Still another important vote was slated to be taken on another Smith amendment reducing the authorization to 200 million dollars and removing the authority of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. to make 100 million immediately available to the President.

REP. BENDER (R) Ohio, planned to offer numerous amendments, including several offered in the senate to eliminate all aid to Turkey and provide only non-military assistance to Turkey and to Greece.

A committee amendment requiring that the FBI screen all personnel sent overseas was adopted without controversy.

PROBE OF REDS IN FILMLAND TO BE NO QUICKIE

House Committeemen In
Hollywood On Trail Of
"Un-Americanism"

HOLLYWOOD, May 9—A secret probe of Hollywood was launched today by the house committee on un-American activities.

Two members of a sub-committee, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R) N. J. and Rep. John McDowell (R) Pa., arrived for the investigation yesterday. With them was a staff of investigators headed by Robert E. Stripling.

A third member of the committee, Rep. John Wood (D) Ga., is due by plane today.

Chairman Thomas asserted: "This is not going to be a quickie or a loose investigation. He said that he and his sub-committee would be in the film city about ten days, contacting people whom he declined in any way to identify."

THOMAS declared that the sub-committee's first business would be to scrutinize Hans Eisler "very carefully" with regard to his "connections here, his business and his friends here."

Eisler is the film music composer who was described by his sister, in testimony before the committee last February, as a "communist in the philosophical sense."

He is a brother of Gerhart Eisler, who has been termed Moscow's No. 1 agent in the United States and who is now under indictment for contempt of congress.

Thomas said the sub-committee, spending all of its time in secret investigations, would hold no Hollywood hearings.

An offer to "point out the real communists" in the film industry was made by Ronald Reagan, president of the screen actors guild.

Household Hints

Good scissors and shears are easily damaged. The fine cutting edge is dulled by use on paper and cardboard, flowers, wet cloth or heavy string. Once sprung they are damaged permanently. Dropping may also

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hancher, Sr., West Ohio street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winfough, West Ohio street.

For her wedding the bride chose an orchid dressmaker suit with which she combined white accessories. A corsage of white carnations and gardenias was pinned at her shoulder.

Miss Jean Hancher attended her twin sister as maid of honor and wore a gray tailored suit with white accessories. Best man was Dale Schiff, Ashville.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Winfough were hosts at a reception in their new home, 129½ West Ohio street, for a few close friends and members of the family.

Refreshments were served buffet style in the diningroom. The bride's table was centered with a large two tiered wedding cake, topped with a tiny bride and bridegroom flanked by

TIGER 9 LOSES DISTRICT TILT TO AQUINAS, 7-5

Bob Steele Gets Four Hits; CHS Gets 10 Safeties But Is Eliminated

Circleville high school Tigers were knocked out of the Central district baseball tournament at Columbus in their first game Thursday afternoon.

In a game played at Upper Arlington, Columbus Aquinas defeated the CHS entry by a 7-5 score.

George Morris gave the visitors eight hits while he and his mates collected 10 but the Columbus boys used theirs to better advantage. Slugging hero of the day was Bob Steele, who smashed two triples and two singles in four times at bat.

EACH TEAM scored four runs in the fourth inning. During the Tigers' outbreak Bob Shaw singled, Bob Eccard got a walk, John Rhoads singled, Rod Heine singled and Steele got a base-clearing triple. The other Tiger run came in the fifth when Steele singled, advanced on Paul Smallwood's hit and scored on an error.

Boland's home run gave the Aquinas club a 1-0 lead in the first. Another run came in the second on one hit. In the fourth two hits, two walks, a hit batsman and an error let in four. Walk, hit and fielder's choice, accounted for the other run in the seventh.

IN OTHER games played Thursday Columbus North eliminated previously undefeated Linden McKinley by a 7-2 score; Grandview bowed 6-1 to Columbus St. Charles; Arlington margined Bexley 6-3 and Columbus East downed Marion 7-0.

At 4:30 p. m. Friday the CHS Tigers were to play Logan nine on the Ted Lewis park diamond.

Strong Richards Team To Play In Night Loop

Richards Implement, one of the 1946 Night Softball league members, will be competing in the 1947 circuit and present indications are that the team will be much stronger than last year.

Managed by "Snap" Ankrom, well-known ballplayer, the team will feature the pitching of Todd McKinney and Guy Easter and the heavy hitting of several well-known athletes.

Last Summer the Richards team played five consecutive games in the district tournament at Chillicothe and was finally beaten 4-3 by Barklow Engineers of Portsmouth who went on to win the finals by a large score.

MANAGER ANKROM has indicated he will field this team when the club begins play May 15. Ed Whaley (on last year's team) or Harold Gulick, catcher; McKinney or Easter, pitcher; Fred Inmett, 1b; Bill Ankrom, 2b; "Snapper" Ankrom, 3b; Carl Gulick, ss. Outfield will be chosen from Bud Parker (with last year's team), Paul Long (another holdover), Robert Tracey, Max Woods (leading hitter in the league last season), Jack Hix and Lloyd Shaw.

Reds Bow To New York While St. Louis Trims Bums; Tigers Take First

NEW YORK, May 9—The first phase of intersectional competition in the major leagues is over today with the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox finally showing definite signs of their championship 1946 form.

Cardinal morale once again is riding high despite the fact that the team still is in last place in the National League and its star first baseman, Stan Musial, is ailing.

The Red Birds showed their old fire last night in trouncing their main rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, in the rubber game of their series. Harry Brecheen held the Brooks to six hits and won easily, 5 to 1. Ralph Branca was the victim.

Musial now is thought to be suffering from ptomaine poisoning. A blood test for appendicitis was negative, but the battling king was still suffering abdominal pains, and will be out of action for a while.

BROOKLYN now is only a few percentage points ahead of the Chicago Cubs and Boston Braves, who are deadlocked for second place.

The Cubs downed the Phillies twice, 2 to 1 and 8 to 7. In the opener Hooks Wisse won a mound duel from Fred Schmidt, former Cardinal making his first major league start since 1944, while a six-run rally in the eighth gave the Bruins the nightcap.

Johnny Beazley, another former Cardinal mound star, won his first start as a Boston Brave with a 12 to 5 decision over the Pirates.

Ken Trinkle was credited with his third victory within a week as the Giants beat Cincinnati, 7 to 4.

IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

COLONELS TAKE AA LEADERSHIP FROM RED BIRDS

By International News Service A pair of major league pitching castoffs were responsible today for the return of the Louisville Colonels to the American Association leadership.

The 1946 champions, favored again this season, went a half game ahead of the Columbus Red Birds last night as they defeated St. Paul, 5 to 2, while the Birds were being shut out, 5 to 0, by Kansas City.

Lefty Bill Wight, late of the New York Yankees, was considerably hotter than the weather as he gave Columbus only three hits.

Louisville's Jim Wilson, ex-Boston Red Sox righthander, meted out only five safeties as the Colonels whipped St. Paul.

Blas Monaco, substitute first sacker, shared honors, however. It was his eighth inning homer with the bases full that broke up a tight duel between Wight and Charley Stanceau.

The defeat was Stanceau's first in four games. Wight won his third victory against one loss.

Meanwhile, Indianapolis squeezed over a run in the ninth to win a ding-dong 6-to-5 battle from Minneapolis.

A double header between Toledo and Milwaukee was postponed because of cold weather. Only one association game is on tap tonight, Minneapolis being scheduled at Milwaukee.

The Detroit Tigers, although idle, were boosted into first place when the pace-setting Chicago White Sox were held to three hits and beaten, 3 to 0, by Dave Ferriss of Boston. The Red Sox, winners of four straight, are only half a game behind the second-place Pale Hose.

The Athletics defeated the St. Louis Browns in a night game, 5 to 3.

The Cleveland-Yankee and Washington-Detroit games were called off because of cold weather.

Know Your City Water Division

By ERVIN F. LEIST
Manager of Circleville Utilities
 The citizens—you—of Circleville now own and operate the water supply facilities of the city. As manager of those facilities it is my duty to inform the owners "what goes on" and why. Therefore, from time to time articles entitled, "Know Your Water Department", shall be published.

As owners of the water department you are entitled, and welcome to ask questions concerning YOUR business enterprise. We shall endeavor to answer them correctly and promptly.

At the time efforts were being made to purchase the water supply system, certain improvements were discussed and promised YOU by those who were actively engaged in that effort. As a result of those statements the Board of Public Utilities was granted authority by the city council, to enter into contract with an engineering firm, in order to determine what improvements were necessary.

BURGESS and Niple, civil and sanitary engineers, 568 East Broad street, Columbus, were employed October 16, 1946, to make a study and submit a report to the board. This has been done, and the report is on file in our office.

On the basis of the report a definite plan of improvements has been adopted. The program consists of eight (8) major steps, as follows:

1. Supplement the present source of water supply in order to increase the volume of water available for distribution.
2. Eliminate the present steam stand-by power and pump equipment and replace same with either gasoline or diesel power units.
3. Purchase and install a new chlorinator, for purposes of disinfection of the water.
4. Purchase and install a master meter, for the purpose of accounting for water pumped at the plant and to enable accurate treatment of water.
5. Investigate, repair or replace the second Scioto river crossing.
6. Install, if necessary, a well or wells, on this side of the Scioto river next to and connected to the present force main, for use as an emergency supply. (This step is contingent upon the adequacy of step 1, above.)
7. Install water softening plant.
8. Erect an elevated storage tank in town for better pressure and fire protection.

BY AUTHORITY of council, granted May 6, 1947, the board has been empowered to proceed with a portion of the above program, and at least an investigation of the fifth step.

The softening of the water supply was promised for early installation. In this regard the engineers have pointed out that the first consideration must be an adequate supply of water. Therefore the first step, as indicated above, will be to supplement our present supply.

It developed that the problem at Circleville was not where to find an adequate supply, because of the abundance of both surface and ground water, but rather a matter of decision of which one to use. The result is that of all the water available, that obtainable at the present site of the plant would be the cheapest to treat and to soften. Why? The water now being used does not contain more than a trace of iron, and it is only three-fourths as hard as water available from deep wells.

This was determined from chemical analysis of samples of water taken from the wells of several local industries. Said wells are representative of the type of water we could expect to obtain from underground supply.

"crawl before we can walk," and we must proceed with care. To my way of thinking security comes before luxury, and an adequate supply of water offers security, from the standpoint of being able to better serve consumers, and better fire protection.

CHAPLIN FILM BOYCOTTED BY OHIO THEATRES

Whether the Grand and Cliftona theaters in Circleville will join other Ohio motion picture houses in boycotting the recently released Charlie Chaplin film, "Monsieur Verdoux", was undetermined Thursday afternoon.

The management of the theaters in Circleville, which are part of a chain of movie houses operated by the Chakeres Theater Corporation headquartered at Springfield, said no notification had been received from headquarters relative to the Chaplin picture. It was stated that the film is not now booked for showing in Circleville.

A group of Ohio theater owners launched a concerted campaign Wednesday to halt the showing of the Chaplin film in this state and they called upon similar owners in other states to "give serious thought to the matter of withholding screen time" from the famed comedian's recently released film.

P. J. Wood, Columbus, secretary of the Independent Theater Owners of Ohio, declared that the group hoped to launch a nationwide boycott by theater owners.

U. S. SAVINGS ACCOUNTS MAY PLAY ROLE IN NEW NINE-BILLION-DOLLAR WORLD BANK

By JOHN F. SEMBOWER

Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The most unusual bank in history, the nine-billion-dollar World Bank, is about ready to open its doors at last, following installation this month of a new president and other momentous happenings which may herald a new era of global finance.

The event is of more than ordinary interest to the average savings account depositor in the 27,000 banks throughout the United States, for if everything goes well, many American banks may use part of those funds to buy bonds as investments in the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

The amazing new institution—best known as one of the twin creations of the historic Bretton Woods conference, the other being the mammoth International Monetary Fund to stabilize world currencies—will never accept any deposits as ordinary banks do, or act like any other bank the world has ever seen.

The bank's only customers will be the 40 nations which also are its stockholders, and that does not include Russia, Australia, New Zealand, or Liberia—all participants in Bretton Woods meetings in 1944 but conspicuous by their absence at the deadline for admissions last Dec. 31, 1946.

Because of the major role which the United States will play in operation of both the bank and the fund, this nation was permitted to name the president. He draws a tax-free $30,000 per year, which is more real earnings than any public official makes in this country except the president himself, but the job went begging for nearly three months.

McClary Takes Over

John J. McClary, New York lawyer and undersecretary of war during part of World War II, finally accepted, and took over on March 17. He named Robert Livingston Garner, New York banker and business executive, to be vice-president.

McClary succeeded Eugene Meyer, Washington, D. C., newspaper publisher and former banker, who marshaled the bank during its organization period and then resigned. Garner replaces the late Harold D. Smith, former director of the United States budget, who died of a heart attack while he was filling in for Meyer during the interim while a new head was named.

The other key American is Eugene Black, Jr., New York banker, who must run the gauntlet of Senate confirmation since he is not an international appointee as are Mc-

Cloy and Garner. However, it is confirmed he may be more powerful than either of the others.

Black and 11 other directors chosen by the stockholder nations are the bosses of the bank; McClary and Garner work for them. It was this situation which apparently made the job unattractive for many leading American financiers who are supposed to have turned it down. Their shying away from the job shook some confidence in the bank and created some problems for McClary to inherit.

However, the bank already is well-heeled, speaking even in the terms of the fabulously rich banking standards of the United States. It is like the United Nations at this stage, in that it has no permanent home yet and rents quarters, but it has hundreds of millions of dollars in funds already.

It is a big investor in the United States, in fact, for it has purchased $147,316,172.95 in United States Treasury certificates of indebtedness, bought in the open market. Uncle Sam's interest rate of seven-eighths percent pays the initial overhead of the World Bank.

The potentially most powerful and influential banking house in world history—far surpassing that of the fabulous Rothschilds, for example—does not even have a vault. So the Federal Reserve bank of New York and a few other big banks have the unusual role of serving as depositories for millions of dollars flowing into the financial colossus.

This influx of money comes from the capital contributions of the stockholder nations, the United States being committed by the Bretton Woods agreement to put up $3,175,000,000 of the $9,100,000,000 cash and international I. O. U. paper.

But very little of it has been called for yet. Installments were levied on the stockholders last November, and 5 per cent payments were asked for Feb. 25 and March 25 of this year, raising the total to an unexpected $700,000,000 paid in as a starter.

France has applied and the bank's committees are mulling over other loan requests totaling more than two billion dollars. When the bank is going full blast, it expects to offer bonds to the public as an investment.

These are the bonds which are of interest to the United States savings banks and the American savings bank depositors, for only investors in the United States and Canada are expected to have very much to put into such bonds.

It will be a tense moment when they are first offered for sale, for then the first showing of confidence or lack-of-confidence in the biggest experiment in international financing will be given.

No one knows better than the financiers what strange tricks public confidence plays in the fortunes of great banking houses, and the ambitious experiment in world financing will have to stand the test that has made or broken nationalistic banks in the past.

Ardent supporters of the bank say that its future is rosy, for it will be able to pledge worldwide loan security, as well as the credit it will have among the stockholder nations.

The World Bank has been compared with a gigantic global reconstruction finance corporation.

It will concentrate, say its leaders, on "income loans"; that is, it will try to boost lagging economies, but will look for good investment possibilities too.

In an era marked by world-wide legislation by the UN, the World Court acting as a global supreme tribunal, and a world army in the making under the UN's Security council, the bank's backers say it is logical that a great planetary bank should make its bow.

Though it was created at Bretton Woods also, the International Monetary Fund is entirely separate from the bank. It is to try stabilizing all the world currencies in exchange and to curb inflation.

Russia is a holdout from this fund also, and seven other nations have not agreed to the exact formula for the exchange—Brazil, Uruguay, China, Dominican Republic, Greece, Poland and Yugoslavia.

The fund is a colorful operation having to do with the world-wide value of the American dollar, the Belgian and French franc, the British pound, the peso of South America and Mexico, the rupee of India, and such exotic pieces of money as Iraq's dinar and Norwegian krona.

The bank's headquarters are here in Washington, making it the world center of financial affairs. Americans, with their own thrilling panorama of bank development stretching from the days of Andrew Jackson's "war" with the Bank of the United States to the famous "bank holiday" in 1934, now have a ringside seat for the most startling innovation in world finance since the ancient Babylonians hit on the idea of a bank as a way to organize their commerce.

NEWS Behind the NEWS

The politicians all expect he will veto it for political reasons, if no other. The major Democratic strength outside the South has been among the unions and city political machines which were allied politically, and the veto would be designed to perpetuate this alliance for 1948. As Gov. Dewey's man, Senator Ives, cast the deciding vote which weakened the senate committee bill (7 to 6), the supposedly leading Republican presidential candidate has assumed a pro-rank-and-file character against Senator Taft, and also Speaker Martin, whose leadership secured house passage of the firm Hartley bill.

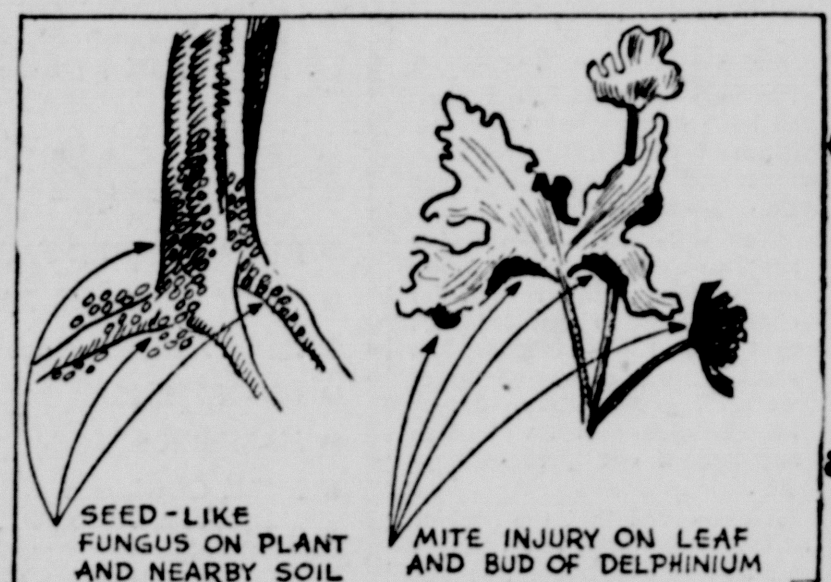

These developments have grown out of senate consideration of the measure which thus strangely has assumed something of the character of an anticlimax.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Health Hints for Delphiniums

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Distributed by Central Press Association

NO PERENNIAL border seems complete without the beauty of delphiniums, but care must be taken to keep these plants at their best.

Keep alert for crown rot, a serious fungous disease of delphiniums. It is usually indicated when the lower leaves turn yellow. Next the plant begins to wilt. After the plant has died down, black rot is noticeable on the crown and roots.

Close examination of the diseased plant will reveal tiny seed-like fungus clustered about the plant or in the surrounding soil, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This fungus is white, tan or reddish brown in color.

Crown rot persists in the garden from year to year unless eradicated. To check the spread of this disease, both the diseased plant and the surrounding soil should be carefully removed. Then pour a corrosive sublimate solution (1-2,000 strength) on the remaining soil area.

Naphthalene flakes can be worked into the soil about nearby plants as an added precaution against the disease. While the flakes will not destroy the disease, they do serve to prevent it.

Keep alert also for cyclamen mite, one of the most serious pests affecting delphiniums. These mites are so tiny they cannot be seen with the naked eye. Both the buds and leaves become blackened, distorted and blistered as a result of this pest, as illustrated.

To control these mites, spray affected plants with a strong rotenone solution, starting early in spring. A combination of sulphur-rotenone dust also can be used and this will control the broad mites frequently found along with cyclamen mites.

LIQUOR AGENTS TO BE SCHOOLED LIKE PATROLMEN

COLUMBUS, O., May 9—An intensified training program for state liquor enforcement agents, patterned after that of the highway patrol, was announced today by Governor Herbert.

The governor said that 40 men would be taken from the top of the civil service list and sent to the highway patrol's training station south of Columbus for a two-week course under Patrol Lieut. Floyd Noon.

Two later training periods for approximately 80 more men will follow. At present there are about 110 provisional appointees on the liquor enforcement staff.

The training program is in line with the recommendation of the senate's liquor investigating committee. Herbert said the short courses would be in law techniques and "to imbue them with the spirit of discipline and courtesy we have in the highway patrol."
